

INDICTMENT OF STEWART IN CONTEMPT CASE LIKELY

Prosecutor to Go Before Grand Jury to Urge Action on Refusal to Answer Senate Inquiry.

TWO SINCLAIR AID "ABSENT-MINDED"

H. L. Phillips, However, Admits to Committee Purchase of Continental Contract Was Unusual.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Early indictment of Robert W. Stewart, head of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, for refusing to testify before the Senate Teapot Dome Committee, was virtually assured today, when District Attorney Gordon announced that he would present the evidence to the grand jury this week.

This, together with the retention of former Attorney-General George W.ickersham to represent the Senate in Stewart's habeas corpus proceedings, and a stinging sermon by Senator Walsh on the patriotism of oil men, as displayed in the present inquiry, comprised the outstanding developments of the day in the oil scandal.

More Absent-Mindedness.—Attempts by the committee to obtain further light on the dark-habes deal, whereby the mysterious Continental Trading Co., Ltd., of London, bought oil at $1.50 a barrel and immediately resold it to the Sinclair, Standard and Prairie companies at $1.75, thus making the profit of $3,000,000, out of which Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall was later bribed to lease Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair, resulted only in new exhibitions of absent-mindedness and innocence on the part of two oil executives.

Stewart's application for a writ of habeas corpus, to liberate himself from the custody of the Senate sergeant-at-arms, is scheduled to be heard by Justice Bailey of the District of Columbia Supreme Court tomorrow morning. Wickersham successfully represented the Senate in the Mal Daugherty case, which is represented as the precedent for this one, and because of his familiarity with the subject, is expected not to ask for a postponement, although his acceptance of this case was only announced today.

Stewart Faces Two Actions.—The habeas corpus proceedings, which were brought from the criminal case which District Attorney Gordon will present to the grand jury, are conceded that Stewart can be prosecuted for his refusal to answer, and, if convicted, can be sentenced to a maximum of a year in jail and $10,000 fine. In addition, Senator Walsh contends the Senate will ask him to answer the question whether he answered the question. That contention will be challenged in the habeas corpus proceedings.

Reasoning before the committee this morning served to emphasize the curious character of the deal by which the Continental accumulated the $3,000,000, which was invested in Liberty bonds, of which $225,000 are known to have been given by Sinclair to Fall, and of which $275,000 were taken by James O'Neill of the Prairie Oil and Gas Co. and furnished returned to that company by him three years later as partial restitution for the giving it had sustained. However, no new facts were obtained.

"Read of Deal in Papers."—Charles Clark, the Sinclair vice president, who was the first witness, gave an excellent impression of a man who doesn't intend to get into more trouble if he can help it. He is on trial with Sinclair and W. J. Burns, charged with tampering, and he simply has not had any information for Senator Walsh. He was very stiff and worried-looking, and had the usual sideways glance of one who knows that enemies lurk on every side.

He never heard of the Continental deal until he read of it in the newspapers. He knew nothing about Liberty bonds. He never had heard of the Continental deal until he read of it in the newspapers. He knew nothing about Liberty bonds. He never had heard of the Continental deal until he read of it in the newspapers. He knew nothing about Liberty bonds.

Judges Will Wear Robes In City's New Courthouse

Black Garb Adopted to Add Dignity to Proceedings and Increase Respect for Bench.

Justice will be administered in the new $4,000,000 courthouse, by black-robed judges.

The Circuit Judges, who now wear whatever their tailors provide, decided today that, in their new quarters, they or their successors should wear on the bench a uniform of black, like that of the United States Supreme Court, or that worn by Judges in New York and other Eastern cities, and in Chicago.

Attorney Thomas S. McPheters submitted the suggestion to Presiding Judge Frey, in a letter, declaring that robes would add to the dignity of the Circuit Court and increase respect for its members. The 13 judges present were nearly unanimous in favoring the plan, only Judge Landwehr dissenting. Some offered anecdotes of lawyers and jurors who walked into court with hats on, or with cigars lighted. Such disrespect, they believed, would be less likely in the presence of robed jurists.

The innovation is not to take effect until the circuit courts remove to the new courthouse, probably early in 1929. It will then apply also to the judges of the criminal division, in the Municipal Courts Building. The terms of Judges Mix, Ittner, Frey, Ossing, Calhoun, Falkenhain, Peppery, Hamilton, and Taylor expire at the end of 1928.

Wearing of robes is optional with Federal District Judges and is not practiced by the St. Louis Federal District Judges. Heretofore the only jurists here wearing robes are members of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Recently the Missouri Supreme Court twice voted down, 4 to 3, a motion to wear robes.

MOVE FOR REPORT ON MARINES IN NICARAGUA BLOCKED

Resolution by Borah for Wilbur to Give Information Halted by Senate Rule.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—An attempt by Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to have the Senate ask Secretary Wilbur for a report on the use of American forces in Nicaragua was blocked today by Senator Shortridge (Rep., California). Borah offered a resolution instructing the Secretary to inform the Senate of the number of conflicts engaged in by the marines, the number of persons killed and the report of officials in charge in Nicaragua. Shortridge insisted on the rule requiring that resolutions lie over a day.

Senator King (Dem., Utah), followed with a resolution proposing that the Senate inquire into the authority of the President to conduct "belligerent operations in foreign countries" when there has been no declaration of war or other grant of power by Congress, but it went to committee without debate.

HICKMAN'S WORDS PROVE HE KNEW RIGHT, STATE SAYS

Alienist, Telling of Moral Sense, Quotes Slayer as 'Saying He Killed and Murdered Girl to Protect Self'

DOCTOR ASSERTS SKIN TEST SHOWS SANITY

Youth, Angered Because Fellow Prisoner Disclosed Note, Threatens Him—Both Guarded.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 6.—A statement by William Edward Hickman that he killed Marian Parker as a "matter of self-protection" was quoted in the youth's sanity trial here today by Dr. Victor Parkin, state alienist, to show that the defendant was sane and could distinguish between right and wrong.

Dr. Parkin also testified Hickman had declared he killed the schoolgirl after kidnapping her, because he "feared she was losing confidence in me," and that he had "no feeling when cutting her up because I saw it had to be done and just did it."

The witness said Hickman admitted turning the girl's torso over to the father for $1500 as a "terrible thing to do, wasn't it?" The witness cited this as an example of Hickman's knowledge of right from wrong.

Says Delusion Came Later.—Questioned as to when he got the idea of claiming "divine guidance," Dr. Parkin testified the killer about three weeks ago said "I just came to me yesterday." The witness mentioned this as proof of Hickman not having thought of claiming such a delusion until long after his arrest.

Dr. A. L. Skoog of Kansas City, chief defense alienist, sat at the counsel table and frequently conferred with Hickman's lawyers.

"Constitutional-psychopathic inferior" was the type of case in which the defense grinded Dr. Parkin. He asserted this was a condition common to criminals and depraved persons.

Asked about an insane person whom he had ordered committed to an asylum, as a "constitutional-psychopathic inferior" case, the witness asserted this was one that had also developed "psychosis," a degree of insanity, and that his official report on the case in question so stated.

Family History a "Predisposition."—The defense drew an admission that Hickman's family history constituted a "predisposition" to insanity, but with the qualification that insanity is not a disease, it follows. Dr. Parkin testified that, as the defense alienist had testified previously, Hickman had shown dementia praecox at the age of 12, definite insanity would have shown itself before he was 20.

Dr. Frank Mikels of Hollywood, brain and nerve specialist, formerly of the New Jersey insane asylum at Morris Plains, N. J., followed on the stand for the defense, declaring he found the defendant "was not and is not insane."

The "skin writing" test to which Hickman was subjected in court Saturday gave no proof of a mental condition associated with dementia praecox, Dr. Paul Bowers, state alienist, insisted, under cross-examination today.

In the test Hickman was stripped to his waist and a large letter "H" marked with the alienist's thumb nail on the prisoner's chest and back. The prolonged presence of the red marks were because of reported dissatisfaction over housing plans was emphasized today by William M. Butler, chairman of the National Republican Committee.

All of the housing matters have been attended to," Butler said, "and the committee will take final action on the hotel arrangements when it meets in Washington Thursday to take up incidental business."

AUTO SHOW OPENS WITH 44 MAKES OF PASSENGER CARS

LINDBERGH'S TYPE OF PLANE INCLUDED

Motor Trucks, Power Boats and Latest Additions in Accessories Are Included in List of Exhibits.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 6.—The St. Louis show, since it follows the Chicago and New York expositions, where the new cars for 1928 were shown, varies somewhat from those exhibitions in that both Ford and Chevrolet cars will be displayed. Elsewhere private showings of these cars were held.

Announce Lower Prices.—The price range at the show starts with the new Model A Ford, Star, Chevrolet and Willyette cars as the low-priced line and goes up to the Packard, Imperial, Chrysler, Packard, Pierce-Arrow and finally to the Warwick model Rolls-Royce, priced at $19,500.

Entrance to the show is at the corner of Broadway and Locust avenues. On the first floor is displayed a number of important passenger models such as the Chevrolet, Chrysler, Oakland, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Star, Durant, Studebaker and Vello. Around the outer walls are the various makes of motor trucks and light delivery trucks, tractors and two exhibits of special bodies.

A novel exhibit is the new light city delivery vehicle, the Pack-Age-Car, which looks like a milk wagon and is powered with a two-cylinder, 4.5 h. p. engine which consumes only one quart of gasoline per hour.

GOLD PLATED CAR

On the second floor are cars priced from $1900 to $2000. Included are the Jordan, Auburn, Peerless, Falcon-Knight, Hudson, Essex, Locomobile, Kissel, Moon, Diana, Marmon, Nash, Dodge, Gardner, Hupmobile, Willys-Knight, Chandler and others.

On this floor also is a standard Chandler Royal Eight du luxe sedan, heavily plated with solid gold, set off by inlays of mother-of-pearl and is termed Cinderella's Golden Coach. Taking the place of upholstery is tapestry—imported from France by Henry Rotterman, president of the Midstates Motors Co., sponsor of the exhibit—which depicts the story of the little girl of other days who fairylike rose from the ashes of poverty to enter the world of riches and every luxury.

THIRD FLOOR EXHIBIT

The top floor is divided between passenger cars, accessory exhibits and shop equipment. Cars displayed include the Cadillac, La Salle, Lincoln, Stutz, Packard, Franklin, Rolls-Royce, Reo, Pierce-Arrow, Stearns-Knight and the Buick.

In charge is Robert E. Lee, general manager of the St. Louis Automobile Dealers' Association, and a show committee composed of H. Brockman, president of the St. Louis Automobile Dealers' Association; Frank R. Tate, president of the Tate Motor Car Co.; W. H. Owen, president of the W. H. Owen Co., and Edward L. Kuhs, president of Kuhs-Buick Co.

MILLER CONVICTION FOR ALIEN PROPERTY FRAUD SUSTAINED

U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Upholds Verdict Which Resulted in 18-Month Prison Sentence.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The conviction of Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, of conspiring to defraud the Government in connection with return of impounded assets of the American Metals Co., was upheld by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today.

Miller was tried jointly with Harry M. Daugherty, former Attorney-General, but the indictment against Daugherty was quashed after two jurors had disagreed. There were two Daugherty-Miller trials, the first jury disagreeing as to both defendants and the second convicting Miller.

Miller was sentenced to serve 18 months in the Federal penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5000. The appeal on which decision was announced today was argued on Jan. 16 last.

The only way Miller can now escape imprisonment is by obtaining a writ of certiorari from the United States Supreme Court or a parole from Federal Judge John Knox, who sentenced him.

Miller and Daugherty were charged with conspiring to defraud the Government of their honest services in releasing $7,000,000 im-

Federal Trade Commission and Department of Justice Dropped Action at Same Time.

EACH SAID OTHER WAS HANDLING CASE

Judge Who Hastily Signed Decree Dropping Complaint Likened to Pilate by Committee.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The amazing shenanigan through which the investigation of the "Bread Trust" was scuttled and sunk by the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission is graphically described and hotly condemned in a report submitted to the Senate Judiciary Committee today. It is based upon an investigation conducted by Senators Borah, Walsh (of Montana) and Deneen, comprising a subcommittee. This morning's report of the subcommittee was signed by Walsh and Borah. Deneen made a minority report.

The report tells how the huge Continental Baking combine, controlling 93 companies, was permitted to escape the anti-trust laws through a tricky piece of business engineered and consented to by some of the highest officials of the Government. Among those named in that connection are Attorney-General Sargent, Chairman Humphrey and Chief Counsel Halpern of the Federal Trade Commission, and former Assistant Attorney-General Myers, now a member of the Federal Trade Commission.

Moreover, the committee pays its respect very tartly to Federal Judge Soper of Baltimore, whose anxiety to keep a personal engagement caused him to dispose in a few minutes of a matter which involved "an attempt to monopolize the bread supply of the nation." It likens his indifference to that of another Judge who "washed his hands of the matter"—Pontius Pilate.

Combine Got Off Scot Free.—The nubbin of the whole astounding business is this: On one day the Federal Trade Commission dismissed its proceedings against the bakery combine on the ground that the Department of Justice was handling it, and on the following day the Department of Justice dismissed its own proceedings on the ground that the Federal Trade Commission was handling it. Thus the "trust" came off without a scratch, and proceeded at once to enormous additional expansion.

Behind this history of juggling and trickery is the well-known explanation of how Federal Trade Commission "packed" the Federal Trade Commission with men known to have friendly connections with the interests they were expected to regulate.

The late Senator La Follette of Wisconsin in February, 1924, introduced a resolution, which the Senate adopted, directing the commission to investigate reports that the Continental Baking Co. had acquired control of 16 baking companies, and to ascertain whether it was violating the anti-trust laws.

Humphrey an Ex-Lobbyist.—The commission proceeded with the investigation, and its trained staff had made considerable progress until President Coolidge appointed to the commission William E. Humphrey, formerly a lobbyist in Washington for the lumber interests. Soon after taking office, Humphrey made a speech before the United States Chamber of Commerce in which he declared that "the motive behind all these investigations is political," and declared that the Senate had no authority to require the commission to conduct the investigation. He asked the Attorney-General for an opinion on that point.

MRS. KRESGE PROVES THREE BANKS IN MIAMI MISCONDUCT CHARGE CLOSE; RUN ON FOURTH

Jury Verdict Against Husband Likely to Result in Divorce Decree Shortly.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Sebastian S. Kresge, wealthy chain store operator, today was found guilty of misconduct by a jury trying the divorce action of his wife, Mrs. Doris M. Kresge, before Supreme Court Justice Tierney. Kresge failed to enter a defense.

Kresge was found guilty of misconduct with Miss Gladys Adelle Fish of Natick, Mass. A private detective had testified that he, with Mrs. Kresge and other detectives, went to an East Forty-eighth street apartment the night of April 11, last, forced the door and there found Kresge with Miss Fish, who was said to be the sister of a girl employed in one of Kresge's stores.

The Court accepted the jury's verdict and, following precedent, is believed to grant an interlocutory degree of divorce shortly, to be made final in three months.

After the return of the verdict, Mrs. Kresge issued a statement saying that the action was forced on her in self-defense. She said she had been persecuted and tortured by litigation brought in the State of Michigan by her husband.

In order to protect her good name, she said she was forced to spend all her income fighting these cases, and although she said she won in both instances, she knew "the only salvation for me was to obtain my freedom by proving the faithfulness of Mr. Kresge."

Kresge brought a suit for divorce in Detroit, which he later withdrew. Mrs. Kresge later obtained an injunction here restraining Kresge from pressing a divorce action in Michigan until her suit had been disposed of in New York.

WASHINGTON COURTHOUSE, O., Feb. 6.—Four robbers with sawed-off shotguns obtained approximately $23,000 in cash and $22,000 in bonds and securities from the Peoples' and Drovers Bank here this morning after forcing five employees and two customers to lie on the floor. Floyd Elliott, cashier of the bank, was ordered to open a reserve safe containing the money and bonds. The robbers then scooped up the loot and fled to the street, where it was believed two automobiles awaited them. Many of the securities were negotiable.

KELLOGG IN CANADA FOR FOUR-DAY VISIT

Premier King Meets Secretary on His Arrival at Ottawa.

By the Associated Press. OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—United States Secretary of State Kellogg and Mrs. Kellogg arrived here today for a four-day visit. They were met by Eric C. McMillan, secretary to the Governor-General, Premier Mackenzie King and a delegation of members of the Senate and Diplomatic Corps. They drove immediately to the residence of William Phillips, the United States Minister to Canada.

The United States is ready to enter into a treaty "with all the world" to abolish the submarine as a weapon of warfare, Secretary Kellogg said in an interview shortly after his arrival.

"Employment of the submarine is a barbarous method of waging war," he declared. "And the United States stands ready for the abolition of its construction and use."

Kellogg outlined the provisions of a bill introduced by Congressman Proctor of Massachusetts, aimed at abolition of submarines. He said that as Secretary of State he had approved the measure.

"The French press seems to have misunderstood the attitude of the United States on this issue," he said, "and I did not know that the move against the submarine was to have been made public on the eve of the signing of the arbitration treaty with France. Our country is going ahead with similar treaties with other countries and there are several under consideration at this moment."

After luncheon at the home of Phillips, a call on Premier King and Governor-General, and Viscountess Willingdon was scheduled. In the evening Kellogg is to be the guest at dinner of the Governor-General.

Tomorrow the Secretary will attend a luncheon given by Premier King and late in the afternoon a reception in the Parliament building. In the evening Phillips is to be his host.

Wednesday night the Government will tender Kellogg a dinner in the House of Commons, to be followed by a reception at the Government House. He will leave Thursday at 3:55 p. m. for Washington.

Secretary and Mrs. Kellogg and the official party left Washington at noon yesterday.

TWO GUARDS SHOT IN MINE STRIKE RIOT, WOMAN HURT

State Troopers Dispersing Union Pickets at Phillipsburg, Pa., Injured by Shotgun Charge.

REINFORCEMENTS RESTORE ORDER

Third Victim of Picketing Fight Suffers Crushed Foot When Trampled by Horse.

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 6.—Two coal and iron policemen were shot and a woman was injured by a State trooper's horse during a mine strike riot at Phillipsburg, near California, Pa., today.

The coal and iron policemen, H. D. Buttermore and F. P. Byrne, employed under State commissions as guards at the Crescent mine by the Pittsburgh Coal Co., were struck by the charge from a shotgun. They were not dangerously wounded.

According to the police, several hundred men and women, acting as union pickets, appeared at the mine and tried to persuade the union miners not to go to work. The coal and iron police attempted to disperse the pickets, it was said, and during the brush between the officers and members of the crowd a shotgun was fired, wounding the policemen. State troopers were summoned from California. The troopers restored order quickly. An unidentified woman member of the crowd suffered a crushed foot when a trooper's horse stepped on her.

The union pickets had concentrated for several days last week at the Daytown mine of the Vesta Coal Co. but today they turned their attention to the Phillipsburg workings.

Wheeler to Urge Inquiry. Immediate action in the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee on the Johnson resolution for investigation of the coal strike in Western Pennsylvania, will be sought today by Senator Wheeler (Dem., Montana), a member of the committee.

Before leaving last night for Washington after investigating conditions in the mining camps, Wheeler said he would urge the committee to which the Johnson resolution was referred to drop other matters and take up at once and report favorably the resolution "which involves the rights of human beings, and therefore should have first consideration."

The Senator declared he was "amazed at conditions in the mining camps," which the striking miners have established since the coal strike began more than 10 months ago.

"The situation is a crying indictment of the authorities here at Washington," he said. "It seems inconceivable to me that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, with all his millions, should not already have relieved the horrible misery and suffering which I have found so abundant, right here in his own back yard."

Receding Ground for Anarchy. "I was amazed to find that Secretary Mellon and the other wealthy men of Pittsburgh, executives of the coal companies and kindred industries have permitted such suffering to develop," Wheeler described "the hill-sides of Pennsylvania" as the "most fertile breeding ground for anarchy and bolshevism. I have seen them, and I have visited China and observed the suffering among the peoples there."

"The situation is of interest to the entire country," he said, "because this industrial warfare cannot go on without affecting the people of the country."

Wheeler said he felt "quite sure the committee will report the Johnson resolution favorably and the Senate will order an investigation."

La Guardia to Urge Inquiry. Wheeler questioned both union and nonunion miners, State police, local magistrates and others regarding conditions as a result of the strike called by the United Mine Workers more than 10 months ago.

Representative La Guardia of New York, who had been here since last Friday making tours of the mining camps, said he intended to make a statement in the House Wednesday urging that a Congressional investigation of the strike situation be ordered at once.

The Brocton school was reopened today in that mining town under the guard of two State troopers and a Deputy Sheriff. The school was closed last week when bullets, alleged to have been fired by nonunion miners, struck the building while pupils were inside. Teachers were escorted to the building by the state police, the pupils gathered in the school yard as usual and at 9 o'clock entered the structure. Plans of Sheriff Brown of Allegheny County to guard the school house with a machine-gun failed to materialize.

TRICKY JUGGLING LET $600,000 COMBINE ESCAPE

was lodged against the Continental, but under a rule introduced by Humphrey, such complaints could not be made public.

George G. Barber, chairman of the company, appeared before the commission and testified that during 1925 the bakeries controlled by the Continental combine produced 1,000,000 pounds of bread and 60,000,000 pounds of cake. They used 2,600,000 barrels of flour, 32,000,000 pounds of sugar and 20,000,000 pounds of milk. The authorized capital stock of the company was $600,000.

While these proceedings were under way, and as the report states, "in apparent contempt of them," the Continental proceeded to acquire nine additional companies, making a total of 25. Thereupon, the complaint was amended to cover these acquisitions.

Even before it could be served, a still greater merger was announced, whereby the Continental, the Ward Baking Co. and the General Baking Co. entered into a huge consolidation which apparently would have a virtual monopoly of the baking industry in the United States. It was to be called the "Ward Food Products Corporation," and would have been capitalized at $2,000,000.

This was too much, and the Department of Justice at once filed suit in the Federal Court at Baltimore to dissolve it. In the same petition it also asked for a dissolution of the merger previously made under the name of the Continental. Attorneys for "trust" complained to Attorney-General Sargent that the Government was now moving against it in two separate proceedings—the commission's complaint and the department's dissolution suit—and asked that the Government confine its action to one or the other. After conference it was agreed that the commission should proceed with its investigation.

Several weeks later Chief Counsel Bayard T. Hainer of the commission reported to the body that the parties to the Ward merger were now willing to abandon their plans and would agree to have a consent decree rendered against them in the Federal Court at Baltimore, dissolving the last combine, on condition, however, that the commission abandon its proceedings against the Continental.

Both Bureau and Case. Commissioner Nugent protested bitterly that the "trust" should not be allowed to carry out its first offense merely because it was willing to abandon its suit. It was willing to abandon its suit.

On the following morning, Assistant Attorney-General A. F. Myers, representing the Department of Justice, together with attorneys representing the baking companies, appeared in Federal Court at Baltimore, and presented a consent decree, fully drawn up, which they asked Judge Soper to sign.

One paragraph of this decree, alluding to the charges against the Continental, stated that "whereas this matter was the subject of a complaint filed before the Federal Trade Commission," the charge as to that count would be dismissed.

In other words, the commission on the preceding day, having dismissed this complaint because it

WAS BEING HANDLED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE NOW ALLOWED IT TO BE DISMISSED ON THE GROUND THAT IT WAS BEING HANDLED BY THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

Subsequently when a vacancy occurred on the Federal Trade Commission, President Coolidge appointed Myers to fill it.

Myers was called before the subcommittee and questioned. He insisted that he had informed Judge Soper of the dismissal by the commission of its complaint, and had pointed out to him that the paragraph of the consent decree which stated that it was pending before the commission, consequently rendered the transaction an acquittal of the Continental, which proceeded to expand its holdings, until at the time of the hearings it had secured control of 93 companies.

"But," it adds, "these features are relatively unimportant as compared with his conduct, and that of the majority of the commission, in using the proceedings before the commission as trading stock to get a consent decree in the equity suit. If the commission had no case against the Continental, the complaint, without reference to the suit, if, as Brindley states, it had a strong case, the proceedings should have gone forward regardless of the consent decree."

Myers admitted before the committee, the report states, that he drew up the consent decree, agreeing to dismissal of the charge against the Continental, without taking any pains to inquire whether the case against it was strong or weak. Nor does the report close without an implied criticism of Attorney-General Sargent.

A Shot at Sargent. It might be supposed, it says, that Myers acted without the knowledge of his superiors, but the fact is that Hainer conferred with the Attorney-General about the matter, and it was following this conference that he recommended to the commission the dismissal of the dispatch with which Judge Soper disposed of the decree when it was presented to him, the report states that he gave a "painful impression of undue haste, considering that the thing before him was a decree to arrest the monopolization of the nation's

WARNING AGAINST BEAUTY OPERATIONS

Head of Medical Society Says Women Lose Health Through Plastic Surgery.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Aroused by the wave of public indignation caused by the attempt of plastic surgeons to straighten the legs of Miss Sadie Holland "by a simple operation," which resulted in a double amputation in the hope of saving her life, Health Commissioner Kessel today warned all women against beautifying operations. Dr. Henry G. Mundt, president of the Illinois Medical Society, took a similar stand.

"Thousands of women in Chicago are losing their health and impairing the physical well-being of the future generation in a vain search for false beauty," said Dr. Kessel. "People who have their faces lifted and their bodies altered to beautify their physical appearance subject themselves to the same danger as Miss Holland."

"Personally, I have never seen a case of bowed legs, except in the case of a woman who had been operated on by a plastic surgeon. There were so bad that the patient could not walk or which required a corrective operation."

The Journal of the American Medical Association says: "Each of our large cities maintains from one to 10 practitioners, all regularly licensed, but beyond the best repute and warning on the shady borderland of quackery, who limit their practice to facial and bodily reconstruction."

A girl who lost her life in an attempt to have her legs reduced was Miss Dorothy Bach. She was 24, graduate of the University of Wisconsin and daughter of Henry C. Bach, a wealthy Chicago manufacturer. The girl thought her legs were too plump. On August 3 she went to a clinic. Two days after the operation Miss Bach became critically ill and died. Death was caused from "disproportionate adipsity of both legs and post-operative shock."

ARGUMENTS IN $82,000 TAX REFUND IN CARLETON CASE

Counsel for Defunct Companies Seeking to Enjoin Payment to Holding Concern.

Federal Judge Farris heard arguments by counsel today on the application by the defunct Carleton Food Products and McKinnon Manufacturing Co., to enjoin the Carleton-Ferguson Co., a holding company, from collecting an $82,000 income tax refund from the Federal Government.

The bill provides for a National Export Debiture Board, consisting of the Secretaries of Agriculture, Commerce and Treasury. The Secretary of Agriculture would be ex officio chairman.

The bill declares that the policy of Congress, in enacting the bill, would be "to afford to those agricultural commodities of which surplus above domestic requirements are exported a refund of the duties paid on such commodities and to prevent such surpluses from depressing the prices obtained for such commodities and from causing undue and excessive fluctuations in the markets for such commodities."

RADIO CORPORATION ENJOINED. By the Associated Press. WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 6.—The Federal District Court of Delaware today granted a preliminary injunction to five independent vacuum tube manufacturers, restraining the Radio Corporation of America from enforcing a license agreement with manufacturers of receiving sets which is said to require them to purchase vacuum tubes from the Radio Corporation.

LAST MEXICAN VETERAN OF WAR WITH U. S. DIES

Copyright 1928 by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., Inc., New York.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 6.—Capt. Antonio Rincon Gallardo, the last Mexican veteran of the American-Mexican war of 1847, died here Saturday.

He was 94 years old and had enlisted at 13 in the National Guard formed to resist the American invasion.

He took part in the battle of Churubusco. Later in life he fought with Porfirio Diaz against the French.

URGES RADIO NOMINATIONS

Senate Committee Recommends Approval of Nominations on Board.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Approval of the contested nominations of O. H. Caldwell of New York, Sam Pickard of Manhattan, Kan., and Harold A. Lafont of Salt Lake City to be members of the Federal Radio Commission, was recommended today by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

The fact is, the report sharply declares, that the second merger was doomed to failure, regardless of the condition of the stock market. The companies involved, therefore, lost nothing by consenting to the dissolution. The really sinister merger, it asserts, was the first one, as subsequent developments have shown. That one has been permitted not only to continue, but to expand to far greater size, thus threatening a monopoly of bread in this country.

Denen, in his minority report, commends the dismissal of the action in order to obtain a consent decree dissolving the Ward Food Products Corporation.

10 FISHERMEN ADRIFF ON LAKE ERIE ICE FLOE

Government Marine Service at Buffalo Making Search for Them.

By the Associated Press. BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 6.—All agencies of the Government marine service searched Lake Erie today for 10 fishermen reported adrift on an ice floe.

Some doubt was expressed today that the men are missing. Nathaniel Duffy, director of the airport, piloted a plane along the Canadian shore yesterday after he had received reports from two sources that the men had been carried out into the lake, but found no signs of the men on the floes beneath him.

Residents of the Canadian shore, however, felt certain the fishermen were adrift and helped to aid themselves in near-zero weather. The search was pressed on their positive assurances.

Capt. Paul Forner of the Coast Guard service, early today put out a crew of men to search for the men, but returned late in the morning without finding the fishermen.

The men were swept up the lake yesterday afternoon by wind after a field of ice on which they were fishing broke away from the main field near Windmill Point, Ont., a few miles from this city.

Observers on shore watched the little group until the huge ice cake had been blown from sight. Coast guardsmen endeavored to launch boats to go to the rescue, but intervening ice thwarted their efforts.

BILL IN CONGRESS EMBODIES GRANGE FARM RELIEF PLAN

Ketcham of Michigan Introduces Measure Calling for Export Debiture Board.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Representative Ketcham of Michigan, a Republican member of the House Agriculture Committee, today introduced a bill embodying the export debenture farm relief plan of the National Grange.

The bill provides for a National Export Debiture Board, consisting of the Secretaries of Agriculture, Commerce and Treasury. The Secretary of Agriculture would be ex officio chairman.

The bill declares that the policy of Congress, in enacting the bill, would be "to afford to those agricultural commodities of which surplus above domestic requirements are exported a refund of the duties paid on such commodities and to prevent such surpluses from depressing the prices obtained for such commodities and from causing undue and excessive fluctuations in the markets for such commodities."

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The third of six persons struck when a man alleged to have been intoxicated drove his automobile through a six-foot wall in a hospital today. Two children were killed outright.

The dead: Mrs. Sophie Wlachynski, Walter Kobowski, 11 years old, and Chester Dobowski, 15 months old.

The police said Peter Zukos, 53, driver of the motor car, was so drunk he could not be interrogated.

The six, all members of the same family, just had alighted from a street car when Zukos' automobile hit them.

One Chamber Containing Much Funeral Paraphernalia in Great Disorder, Probably Looted by Robbers, Explorer Reports.

By the Associated Press. CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 6.—Eighteen boats intended to carry King Tutankhamen across the Styx have been found in his tomb. These and other discoveries in the third and fourth chambers are described in a report, just made public, of Howard Carter, in charge of the work of exploring the tomb.

The flotilla is a reminder of the ancient custom of providing the dead with means of transport to the other world thus making them independent of the services of Charon. (Charon in Greek mythology was a morose old man whose duty it was to ferry the souls across the Styx, the mythical stream Greeks believed a man had to cross after death. This idea is supposed to have been of Egyptian origin.)

Another discovery in the third chamber, where the boats were, was a number of beautifully carved human figures. These were to serve as substitutes for King Tutankhamen in case Osiris, ruler of the dead, should impose tasks of penance upon his new subject which would not be befitting to the dignity of one who was a king upon the earth.

The report also describes the canopic jar of carved alabaster containing the Egyptian ruler's viscera, and an elaborate canopic chest enclosing the jar. The chest, also of alabaster, is guarded at each corner by a life-size statue of the tutelary goddess.

Inside the chest, four receptacles, each containing a reproduction of the great gold coffin of the king, were found. The king's head, finely sculptured in alabaster, was on each cover.

What is supposed to be hair-looms were in another nest of coffins. One of them contained a gold statuette of Amenhotep, a predecessor of King Tutankhamen, and a lock of hair of Queen Tyl. The fourth chamber was found by Carter to be in extreme disorder, evidently due to robbers seeking gold. Apparently intended for the storage of oils, wines and food-stuffs for the use of the king in the lands beyond the grave, it also contained an overflow of funeral paraphernalia.

The contents of this chamber are still to be thoroughly examined. In the meantime work on the tomb has been suspended and it is now open to the public.

Carter describes the fourth chamber as a jumble of every kind of funeral chattels, in extreme disorder as if disarranged by an earthquake, but evidently it was the work of robbers seeking gold, and was in great contrast to the harmony and order of the third chamber. Objects rescued from this chamber have not yet been examined thoroughly, but many promised to be highly interesting.

The funeral paraphernalia included couches, chairs, foot-stools, gaming boards, weapons, toys, and alabaster vases of all shapes and sizes.

LINDBERGH FLYING EXHIBITION PLANNED

Reception Committee Hopes to Have Event Day Following Flyer's Return.

Tentative plans for a river front flying exhibition by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh the afternoon of Tuesday, Feb. 14, the day following his scheduled arrival home from his Southern good-will tour, were made today by the Lindbergh Reception Committee.

To permit children to see the young aviator to best advantage while he is piloting his Spirit of St. Louis, the committee proposed a half holiday in the public and parochial schools. The Public Service Co. offered to provide school children with free street car transportation to the levee, and the committee planned to reserve a section of the river front for them.

Lindbergh cabled members of the committee that he expects to arrive at the city's airport at Bridgeton, St. Louis, about sundown next Monday, after a non-stop flight from Havana, Cuba. There will be no public demonstration at the flying field. Lindbergh also agreed to any ceremonies the committee desired.

The flying exhibition would start about 2:30 p. m. East St. Louis will be invited to join the riverfront throngs massed between Eads and the Municipal bridges.

A Chamber of Commerce dinner for Lindbergh on Wednesday also was suggested, but no action was taken.

Col. Lindbergh expects to remain in St. Louis a week before returning to Washington, his starting point last December. While here he will be a guest in the Knight home on Warsaw road, where he stayed after his return from his return from his trans-Atlantic flight last June. Harry F. Knight and his son, Harry Hall Knight, were among Lindbergh's backers on his New York-to-Paris flight.

Final plans for his second homecoming will be made Thursday afternoon. The committee met today at the Noonday Club, Security Building. It is headed by Thomas N. Dyrart.

BIT OF WOOD BELIEVED TO BE FROM CARLING PLANE FOUND

By the Associated Press. MONTREAL, Feb. 6.—The Montreal Gazette today declared that a piece of propeller blade found at Fox River on the Gulf of St. Lawrence is believed to be from the monoplane Sir John Carling. The water-soaked piece of wood, about two feet long, was found by a fisherman Dec. 24.

The propeller fragment bears the name "Hamilton," which is believed to be that of the manufacturer. The wood was tipped with metal.

The Sir John Carling, piloted by Capt. Terrence Tully and Lieut. James McCall, left Toronto, Ont., N. F. bound for London, England, Sept. 7, and was never heard from again.

SUPREME COURT OF MISSOURI

Frees Mississippi Fugitive

H. M. Garland of Sedalia Proved He Wasn't There When Alleged Embezzlement Occurred.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 6.—H. M. Garland of Sedalia yesterday was ordered discharged by the Missouri Supreme Court from a requisition issued by the Governor of Mississippi and honored by Gov. Baker. The ruling affirmed judgment of the Cole County Circuit Court here which freed Garland from extradition on a charge of embezzlement in Bolivar County, Miss., because of evidence that Garland was not in Mississippi at the time of the alleged crime.

Gov. Baker honored the requisition May 11, last, and Garland went to the Circuit Court here for a writ of habeas corpus. The Circuit Court ordered his release. Mississippi County officials took the case to the Supreme Court with a writ of certiorari for review.

MAN HELD HERE

FOR KILLING IN OHIO BANK HOLDUP

Another Suspect Arrested

Here Admits $500 Cleveland Robbery in Which Cashier Was Slain.

George Germain, arrested in St. Louis Thursday and taken to Cleveland, has confessed, according to police there, that he murdered a cashier in a $500 holdup there, in which he was accompanied by a St. Louisian known as "Little Red."

Acting on Germain's statement that "Little Red" could be found in this city at the Paris Hotel, 1720 Olive street, police went there at 2:15 a. m. today, and, upon inquiry, were shown to a room where they arrested a man who said he was Samuel Wrobel, 28 years old, a salesman, known as "Little Red."

"I've never been in Cleveland in my life," declared Wrobel. "That Germain is the greatest liar I know. Know him? Surely I do."

"He stopped at my hotel on Dec. 5-6. I got in conversation with him about Jack Dempsey. I'm crazy about Dempsey and I took Germain to my room to see my collection of Dempsey's photographs. That's all I had to do with Germain. I want to go to Cleveland and call that guy a liar to his face."

Wrobel signed an extradition waiver, and will be taken to Cleveland.

Germain, also known as Clarence Beard, was arrested here as he drove over the McKinley Bridge. Detectives, becoming suspicious, searched his car and found a revolver. The police report quoted Germain as saying he would have killed the detectives if he would have had a chance.

Germain admitted being wanted in Cleveland for a bank holdup and at Ionia, Mich., where he had escaped from the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, having been sentenced to life imprisonment for a $5000 holdup in Detroit.

While in a police cell here, Germain attempted suicide by slashing his wrists with a tie clasp which he had sharpened on the concrete floor.

On the Cleveland-bound train, Germain, according to police, admitted without questioning that he was being taken to Cleveland on a "murder charge." Questioning is said to have elicited a confession that he shot and killed Stephen Zaborski, cashier of the Lithuanian Savings and Loan Co., in a holdup. He was identified as the slayer by another employee of the bank.

INQUEST REOPENED IN DEATH OF CHILD FOUND BURNED

Police in Chicago intimate Beverly Hein, 4, Was Killed and Set Afire.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Believing that 4-year-old Beverly Hein, who was found dead, supposedly of burns, at her home in Chicago Heights last Monday, may have been murdered, and that her slayer had fired her clothing to conceal his crime, the county highway police yesterday asked that the coroner's office reopen the inquest into her death.

Deputy Coroner Joseph Hoffman announced that the inquest would reopen this morning at Chicago Heights.

The suspicions of the county highway police are based on their statement of the case, as follows:

Edgar Hein, the father of the dead girl, worked nights and it was the custom of the mother to take an automobile and bring him home from work each morning. Last Monday when they returned they found Beverly lying in the middle of the kitchen floor, dead—her night dress burned off her body.

Mrs. Hein had been gone only 20 minutes. Police doubt that burns alone could have caused her death in that short space of time. Furthermore, there was no fire in the kitchen stove and no matches were in reach of the girl.

An examination disclosed several bruises on the child's body.

Last June they hitch-hiked to New York, where they obtained free passage to Calcutta on a British freighter. They wandered through India for three months and started for home. They reported the return trip less pleasant. Shipping as firemen on the steamship Algie, Kelly said he lost 19 pounds carrying the Equator.

WOULD PERMIT OIL COMBINATIONS UNDER NEW LAW

Secretary Work to Recommend Legislation to Exempt Operators From Federal Anti-Trust Acts.

PLAN OUTLINED BY COMMITTEE OF NINE

Provides for Supervision of Conservation Board, Includes Leasing of Osage Indian Lands.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Recommendations for legislation to permit co-operative development of petroleum pools without violation of the Federal and State anti-trust laws were made public today by Secretary Work as chairman of the Federal Oil Conservation Board.

The recommendations, drawn up by the committee of nine recently named to consider over-production and waste problems, have been submitted to the conservation board along with a bill proposed to empower the board with the authority to permit mutual development of fields in an effort to conserve the nation's petroleum supply and prevent waste through over-production and resultant depression of the industry.

In brief the recommendations were: "Federal legislation which shall unequivocally declare that agreements for the co-operative development and operation of single pools are not in violation of the Federal anti-trust laws, and permit, under suitable safeguards, the making, in times of over-production, of agreements between oil producers for the curtailment of production."

To Lease Indian Lands. "Similar legislation by the various oil-producing States."

"Immediate further study into the matter of waste of natural gas, in order that legislation may be formulated which will forbid such waste as fully as may be done without working injustice and unreasonable hardship."

"Legislation by Congress granting the Secretary of the Interior authority to join and to permit lessees from the Government to join in agreements for the co-operative development and operation of single pools."

"The passage by Congress of the legislation heretofore recommended to it by the Secretary of the Interior, removing the existing mandate upon him to offer for lease annually, regardless of conditions, 100,000 acres of Osage Indian lands."

Wares Monopoly Laws. The proposed bill would provide that "no agreement by two or more persons for the co-operative development and operation of an oil and gas pool shall be deemed in violation of any of the acts of Congress forbidding monopolies or agreements in restraint of interstate commerce."

"Agreement between oil producers for the curtailment of the drilling of oil wells and of the production of oil during periods of overproduction as such periods are determined and declared as hereinafter provided, shall, when made in compliance with the conditions hereinafter provided, be deemed not in violation of any act of Congress forbidding monopolies or agreements in restraint of interstate or foreign commerce."

"No record of overproduction shall be deemed to exist for the purposes of this act, unless and until the same has been publicly declared to exist by the Federal Oil Conservation Board, nor shall any such record be deemed to continue after the board has publicly declared the same to be ended."

The bill would authorize the board to prescribe rules and regulations necessary to carry out the purposes of the act. Furthermore, it would provide that the agreements entered into by producers, shall be in writing and filed with the board.

The agreements would be subject to the disapproval of the board at any time on the ground that they were not in the public interest.

The committee of nine, made up of three men each from the oil industry, the American Bar Association and the Government, concluded its study of the oil problems Jan. 27.

Secretary Work said the recommendations had not yet been considered by the oil board or by Government technologists, who have been studying the conservation problem for three years.

COUNT VON LUCKNER WANTS TO BECOME A U. S. CITIZEN

Commander of German Raider Plans to Return to America in October.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Count Felix von Luckner, who as commander of the German searaiders, Scander, in the World War roamed the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans for seven months and sunk 25 allied merchantmen, according to his plans, desires to become an American, he said here yesterday. Accompanied by Countess von Luckner, he said he was going to Hayana in two weeks to rejoin the little schooner in which they set sail from Germany more than a year ago.

They will return to Hamburg, he said, and in October will come back to America—"to the one country in the world which I have come to love so dearly," he said.

CITY EMPLOYEE, 60, DIES AFTER FALL OFF AUTO

Henry Knake Tumbled From Running Board at Bellefontaine Training School.

Henry Knake, 60 years old, an attendant at the St. Louis Training School, Bellefontaine and Hall roads, died early today at City Hospital of skull fracture suffered two weeks ago, when he fell from the running board of an automobile.

Knake was going from one building to another on the grounds of the school, which is a municipal institution, preferring to ride on the running board for the short distance. As the machine started, Knake fell, striking his head on the paving.

Negro Held for Death of Man, 75, Hit by Auto.

A coroner's verdict of criminal carelessness was returned today in the case of John Shipnar, 75 years old, who was killed by an automobile driven by Frank McMurray, Negro chauffeur, 3433 Laclede avenue, Saturday night.

Testimony was that Shipnar was attempting to cross Market street in the 800 block, when the machine, coming west, turned to the left as if to pass a mail truck stopped behind a street car. As the machine started to pass the truck, it hit Shipnar and then continued on for about 40 feet along the wrong side of the street, crashing into a machine parked on the south side of Market, witnesses said.

Shipnar, a laborer, lived at a hotel at 11 North Sixth street. McMurray, unable to furnish bond, is held in jail to await action of the Grand Jury. He made no statement.

MARSHAL HAIG'S SON TOLD OF HIS FATHER'S DEATH

Mother Breaks News to Young Earl Recovering From Illness; Thousands View Body.

EDINBURGH, Feb. 6.—Throngs of Earl Haig's fellow Scots took advantage today of their last opportunity to pay him tribute as his body continued to lie in state in St. Giles Cathedral. It was estimated that 15,000 persons will have paid the late Field Marshal homage before the coffin is taken tomorrow to Dryburgh Abbey, Haig's last resting place. Despite snow and sleet a long queue formed before the doors were opened today and it was announced that the cathedral would continue open until late at night. The young Earl Haig, who succeeds the famous Marshal to the title of nobility, learned only yesterday of his father's death last Monday. The young Earl has been seriously ill. Lady Haig, his mother, returned last night to Bessenyde, the Haig estate, to tell him the news that had been withheld.

THIEVES ENTER STORE IN CITY, TAKE $900 AT REAR, IN COUNTY

Saturday's Receipts Stolen From Grocery at 7164 Manchester, Which Straddles Lane.

Burglars obtained $900, Saturday's receipts, from a safe in the office of the J. B. Remley grocery, 7164 Manchester avenue, some time Sunday night.

The store straddles the county line, the front part being in the city and the rear in St. Louis County. Although the intruders gained entrance by forcing a window in the front of the store, St. Louis police decided to let county authorities handle the case, as the office in which the safe is located is in the county. The burglars opened the safe by knocking off the combination with a heavy hammer.

Burglars used explosives to open a safe in the offices of the Missouri Building and Loan Co., 3311 Meramec street, last night. They obtained $167. The loss is insured.

Willis Vernon Cole Wins Guild's Award for Second Time.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The American Writers' Guild has announced the selection of "Constanza," by Willis Vernon Cole, as the winner of the Guild's 1928 award. This is the second award made to Vernon Cole, American author, now living in Cino Mars Le Pile, France, and marks the first time in the organization's history that a writer has been so honored. He won the prize in 1926 with "The Star of the Alamo."

An annual award is made by the Guild, which was formed for the purpose of "stimulating a more intelligent interest in the literary and dramatic value of historical romance and fostering and financing the publications of the works of American authors."

MISSOURI LAGS IN SUPPORTING ITS PUBLIC CHARGES

Care of Insane and Physically Afflicted Classed as One of State's Neglected Activities.

LITTLE INCREASE IN OUTLAY SINCE 1913

Associated Industries Cites Appropriations in Argument for Executive Budget System.

In an analysis of expenditures in Missouri in the care of the insane and the physically afflicted, the Associated Industries in a report today classed the eleemosynary work as one of the two chiefly neglected activities of the Missouri State government. A report issued several weeks ago placed education as the other.

Even greater neglect than in the matter of schools was reported for the State hospitals by the organization, which is making a survey of all state expenditures in connection with the campaign for the establishment of an executive budget system with central purchasing of all supplies as a means to prevent waste and extravagance and provide more funds for necessary activities.

Increases in Expenditures.

Figures included in the report showed that the State expenditures for eleemosynary purposes increased from $1,460,397.05 for the biennial period of 1901 and 1902 to $2,704,021.73 for the period of 1913 and 1914, and to $4,635,286.62 for 1925 and 1926, the increase for the latest mentioned period being 217.40 per cent over 1901 and 1902. While the increase appears to be substantial, the report points out that owing to the decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar the institutions in fact are receiving little more than in 1913 and 1914, economists estimating that the dollar today has only 65 per cent of its value in 1912.

It was shown that while the hospital expenditures were increasing 217.40 per cent, expenditures for educational purposes increased 354.28 per cent. It was contended that neither activity had adequate funds.

Allotments to Institutions.

The expenditures for eleemosynary purposes in 1925 and 1926 were shown to have been: Federal Soldiers' Home, $174,255.49; Federal Soldiers' Home, $175,777.22; Fulton Hospital, $883,091.73; St. Joseph Hospital, $1,024,901.73; Nevada Hospital, $85,243.83; Farmington Hospital, $249,044.22; Missouri State School for Feeble Minded, $491,192.90; Missouri State Sanatorium, $515,277.35; Board of Manager of Eleemosynary Institutions, $35,102.12. Total, $4,635,286.62.

For the same purposes in 1901 and 1902, the expenditures were: Confederate Soldiers' home, $69,220.99; Federal Soldiers' Home, $62,017.21; Fulton Hospital, $225,159.81; St. Joseph Hospital, $98,455.62; Nevada Hospital, $285,389.44; Farmington Hospital, $190,901.17; Missouri State school for Feeble Minded, $147,002.81. Total, $1,460,397.05. The State Sanatorium was not in existence in 1901 and 1902.

J. M. BECK INSISTS THAT LEGALLY HE'S A PENNSYLVANIAN

Nearly Half of Senate Is Disqualified, He Says, if Charge That He Lives in Washington Is Upheld.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—James M. Beck charged today that to deny him his seat in the House as a Republican Representative from Pennsylvania because he had a home in Washington would disqualify nearly half of the Senate and a considerable number of the members of the House.

Defending himself from Democratic charges that he was not an inhabitant of Pennsylvania in a constitutional sense when he was elected, Beck declared before the House Elections Committee that an increasing number of Senators had acquired homes in Washington and lived here the greater part of the year, being only occasionally in the States they represent.

Cites Borah, Lodge and Knox.
"If the doctrine of predominate physical presence is to prevail," Beck declared, "then several Western Senators could not hold their seats. Senator Lodge lived nine months of the year in Washington, and—when not in Europe—a few months in his summer home in Massachusetts. Senator Knox lived the greater part of the year in Washington and, while he had a country residence in Pennsylvania, he voted from a room in a hotel in Pittsburgh."

"Therefore my residence in Washington can be eliminated unless this committee is prepared to suggest a wholesale slaughter of our most prominent men in public life on the matter of their eligibility."

Voted in New Jersey.
Beck said he was born in Philadelphia and for years was a resident of that city, but admitted that for 17 years he had been a resident of New York and New Jersey, voting for several years in New Jersey. In 1924, he added, he determined to resume his residence in his native city. He said further that he had a residence in Washington which he purchased before he became Solicitor General. He contended that he was an "inhabitant" of Pennsylvania in the meaning the framers of the Constitution had given to the word, basing his contention upon his establishment of a legal voting residence a year and a half ago in Philadelphia, preceded by the public announcement of his intention to resume his Philadelphia citizenship.

Farmer's Death Due to Poisoning; Autopsy on Woman's Body Ordered.

Great Northern Seeks Extension.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Authority for a 75-mile extension of its line in Northern Montana was asked of the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Great Northern Railroad. The extension will leave the present main line at Saco and run northerly and westerly to a point near Turner, passing through Phillips and Blaine counties. It will serve agricultural land but will not traverse any incorporated towns.

CLOSE SHAVE INDICATED FOR BARBER SHOP BILL

Sanitary Measure Gets a Steaming in Hearing Before Aldermen.

The bill to regulate sanitary conditions in city barber shops may go over, but it will be a close shave, judging by the controversy today before a committee of the Board of Aldermen. The question which caused the uproar was:
"Can you get germs out of a barber shop?"

A representative of the Barbers' Union and Ben Phillips, representing the Master Barbers' Association, asserted that germs could be chased from city barber shops.
For an inspection fee of $25 a year, to be paid by each barber shop, and $4 to be paid by each barber in town, these supporters of the bill asserted barbering could be made germ-proof.

"It will put the safety razor out of business," said the barber union men. "As soon as men begin to have a clean face towel with their shave business will increase."

"You Can't Boil a Razor Shop," But Joe Ripper, 7607 Ivory avenue, and William Nels, 4963 Ty-rolan avenue, hose barbers who run independent shops, hooted at the idea. Barber Nels addressed Alderman Niederluecke, chairman of the committee, to this effect:

"What's the use of sterilizing brushes and mugs and towels and combs? You can't get rid of germs. A doctor friend of mine tells me that, according to the best medical theory, you have to boil germs 15 minutes. Take razor strops, for instance. You can't boil a razor strop. It would ruin a razor strop to boil it. Well then, the germs you chased from the other tools would all gather on the razor strop, wouldn't they?"

Boiling Point in Barbering.
This brought the retort from the other side that germs could not get on razor strops from sterilized razors. Barber Ripper quietly observed that, if a barber had to boil his razors 15 minutes before strop-ping them, shaves would require somewhat longer periods than they do now. Supporters of the bill offered to show the committee motion pictures of germs, including the germs of barber's itch. But Alderman Niederluecke said there was not time.

It developed shortly that Alderman Frank Wetzel of the committee had the wrong bill before him and thought all the talk applied to beauty shops, too. Beauty shop representatives, apparently warned in advance, sprang to their feet and demanded to know if they were in the bill. After three beauty shop representatives had spoken, somebody gave Alderman Wetzel the right bill and the noise subsided. The committee took the barber shop bill under advisement.

CONVICT NOT A WAR HERO

Records Fail to Show He Saved Life of Petain.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Col. William B. Pistole, Army Judge Advocate, has notified the United States District Attorney's office that Sergeant William L. Cunningham is not a war hero, never saved the life of Gen. Petain and that a search of records failed to disclose any other act of heroism.

Cunningham was sentenced to serve three years in the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., last Friday, after an attorney employed by the Illinois American Legionnaires had represented to Federal Judge Lindley that for the brave acts mentioned Cunningham had been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and the Croix de Guerre. Col. Pistole told the District Attorney that Cunningham was in the Signal Corps during the World War and his service record mentioned no heroism whatever.

Jordan Quality at New Lower Prices

TWELVE years ago, in the first Jordan advertisement, we stated that it was the Jordan idea "to build a chassis of finished mechanical excellence to be equipped with a series of custom style bodies."

Many thousands of Jordan owners throughout the world, know from actual experience, the soundness of that idea.

Composed of the same group of aggressive young men who founded it, The Jordan Company is today vigorously pursuing that original idea—producing a line of fine quality six and eight cylinder cars.

In anticipation of much more ambitious production plans for the coming year, the prices of both series have been recently reduced from two to three hundred dollars.

The cars have not been changed in any respect—Jordan has never compromised with quality.

We believe that these motor cars, at the new prices, represent more comfort, more performance, more good looks and more real satisfactory service per dollar of investment than it is possible to find in any other automobile.

Jordan cars will be exhibited at the Automobile Show so that you may examine them from an appearance standpoint—and special demonstrations will be arranged at any time so that you may test the real worth of the cars by actually driving them yourself.

PLANS MOVE TO PADLOCK 12

RAIDED CHICAGO NIGHT CLUBS

Federal Attorney Has 105 Witnesses From Among the 18,000 Present When Officers Entered.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Edgar Elder, Assistant United States District Attorney, thinks the visit of prohibition agents to a dozen of the best known night clubs, cabarets and restaurants early yesterday, and the seizure of quantities of liquor have provided evidence enough to justify padlocking their places for a year.

"The Government not only has observation evidence," he said, "which in itself would be sufficient for padlocking, but it also has 105 witnesses—persons from whom liquor was taken as they sat at the tables in the cabarets. The prohibition agents can testify that they observed liquor drinking in the 12 establishments. Where the liquor was obtained is immaterial."

At least 10,000 persons were in the dozen places where the Federal agents stopped: The Rainbow, Blackhawk, Parody, Hollywood Barn, Midnight Frolics, Alamo, Jeffrey Tavern, Club Ansonia, Rendezvous, the Samovar, Chez Pierre and the Plantation.

MARINES SEARCH FOR

SANDINO NEAR BORDER

Reinforcements Rushed to Matagalpa—People Fear General Will Attack Town.

By the Associated Press.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 6.—American Marines massed in the mountainous region some 40 miles south of the Honduran border today seeking Gen. Sandino, leader of the Nicaraguan insurgents. Reinforcements were speeded to Matagalpa by truck when the marine command heard that Sandino was near there.

Missing since the air raid on his stronghold of El Chipote, when he was believed to have been wounded, Sandino had apparently moved farther to the south. At times his flight across the Honduran border has been rumored but advice received here indicated he had penetrated further into Nicaragua.

With him was a force of mounted men, well armed, it was stated. The region of Jinotega and San Rafael del Norte, where Sandino is understood to have been sighted, is some 15 miles northwest of Matagalpa, center of Nicaragua's most important coffee growing section.

People of Matagalpa fear that Sandino may attempt an attack on the town in the belief that marines there have been withdrawn to reinforce garrisons in the department of Nueva Segovia.

Nye Calls Policy in Nicaragua Financial Imperialism.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 6.—Opposition to the administration's pending naval construction program was voiced here last night by Senator Nye (Rep.), North Dakota, in advocating military preparedness for defense only, at a meeting of the Young Friends Society.

He described the $740,000,000 naval program as a "foolish idea," and again assailed the administration policy of maintaining marines in Nicaragua. He attributed the Nicaraguan situation to the reign of "financial imperialism."

Senator Nye asked for the citation of a single instance in which American lives have been placed in jeopardy in Nicaragua. Referring to the contention that the marines were there to insure a fair election next summer, he declared the need for their use in Pennsylvania for that purpose was "far greater."

ADMITTS HE STOLE

PISTOL, ROBBED FIVE

Youth, 18, Arrested After Holding Up Three in West End Streets.

Confession that he committed five street holdups in which he flourished a pistol stolen from a cousin was made to Page Boulevard Police last night by a youth who said he is Fred McCollegan Jr., 18 years old, 2409 North Fifth street.

McCollegan was making a boulevard stop at Union boulevard and Waterman avenue when Policeman Haycraft and Gleason seeking a youth who had committed three holdups within 90 minutes, stopped their car alongside the youth's. He attracted suspicion by his apparent nervousness and was arrested.

He admitted, police reported, that he had held up Linwood Alvis, 5133 Washington boulevard; Joseph Pozinak, 6930 Genevieve avenue, and William Eytel, on streets in the West End, Hotel Statler, obtaining a total of $55. He also admitted holdups in the last week of James K. Larmore, 5261 Westminster place, and Otto Dallavale, 5935 Raymond avenue, obtaining $35 and jewelry valued at $450.

When arrested he had his cousin's weapon and $47.73. He said that he had spent the rest of the money.

When his victims viewed him at the police station and identified him, he also identified them, and recalled incidents of the robberies.

SAYS U. S.-BRITISH NAVY RACE WOULD BE 'WORST THING'

Member of Naval Committee in Parliament Hopes Two Nations Will Work Together.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The statement that he believed a naval building race between the United States and Great Britain would be the "worst thing" that could happen was made today by C. D. Burney, a member of the Naval Affairs Committee of the British Parliament, in an informal conversation with members of the House Naval Committee.

Burney was introduced by Representative Britten (Rep., Illinois). Chairman Butler remarked he hoped the visitor, who had listened to a discussion of the administration's $740,000,000 new warship construction program, had gathered the impression that America "proposed to build ships."

Burney said he did not think the program had caused any concern in England. It was his opinion that all responsible persons in the British Parliament felt the United States had a right to possess a navy equal to that of Great Britain.

He said that "so long as the combined British and American navies were equal to the navies of other world powers, the world will be protected" and added that he believed with its far-flung trade routes was more inclined to work closely with the United States than the Americans were prepared for.

The Britisher said it was "a great pity" that some sections of both the American and British press harped upon what they described as an element of competition between the two nations, and said he was positive that "responsible statesmen" in England did not hold that feeling with regard to the American navy.

The whole future of the world depends on the United States and Great Britain working together," he said.

Burney added that he regarded the failure of the Geneva arms limitation conference unfortunate, as he did not think either nation had any ulterior motive in mind and that England entered the conference with hopes for an agreement.

Chairman Butler said Burney at an early date would appear before the committee as a witness for questioning on naval matters.

Burney, who is in the United States to work out a plan for a dirigible passenger-mail line between New York and London, said the Postoffice Department had indicated it would recommend legislation to legalize trans-Atlantic air mail service and that he hoped to have three or six dirigibles built in the United States.

U. S. ARMY FLYERS FORBIDDEN TO ASCEND ABOVE 15,000 FEET Pilots Must Have Special Permission to Exceed This Altitude Without Oxygen.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—From now on 15,000 feet is the "ceiling" for flying for army flyers. The reason for this limit is that piloting above that altitude without oxygen equipment is dangerous.

Instructions to this effect have been issued by Major-General James E. Fechet, chief of the Army Air Corps. Pilots may go to higher altitudes by special permission.

The average man, in good physical condition, according to Gen. Fechet, can reach altitudes of 15,000 feet without danger and can remain at such altitude a few hours without impairing his efficiency. Above 15,000 feet artificial respiration aid by means of specially designed oxygen apparatus is necessary. But even oxygen does not remove the menace of unconsciousness or even death by asphyxiation at an altitude of 40,000 feet.

Except in unforeseen emergencies, flights at an altitude above 20,000 feet and up to 25,000, even with oxygen apparatus, will be made only on authorization of the station or organization commander, after approval by the local flight surgeon.

U.S. AND FRANCE SIGN NEW TREATY OF ARBITRATION

Event Takes Place on 150th Anniversary of First Compact Between These Nations.

ITS AIM IS TO BAR POSSIBILITY OF WAR

It Will Become Effective on Its Ratification by the Legislative Bodies of Both Countries.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—A new arbitration treaty with France was signed shortly after 11 o'clock this morning by Robert E. Olds, Undersecretary of State, for the United States, and Ambassador Paul Claudel for France.

Revision of peace treaties between the United States and France became an accomplished fact with signature of the pact.
The treaty supersedes the Root arbitration treaty which expires
Feb. 27. It will become effective, however, only upon ratification by the legislative bodies of the two governments and the formal exchange of copies of the ratification.

Text Secret for Present.

As is customary, the text of the new treaty will remain confidential until it is made public by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. In substance, however, the terms already are well known, including a general declaration in the preamble against resort to war coupled with an expression of hope by the two republics that a day will soon come when all nations will have abandoned war as an instrument of national policy.

The binding commitments of the treaty have to do entirely with arbitration of disputes which it may not be possible to settle by diplomatic means or through the conciliation machinery set up by the Bryan treaty. Under it, the two governments pledge themselves to arbitrate any dispute not arising from purely domestic questions in either country, not affecting the interests of a third nation, and not involving the Monroe doctrine. This represents a marked change from the language of the old Root treaty which preserved from arbitration matters affecting the vital interests or national honor of each country. To that extent, the new treaty is looked upon both here and in Paris as strengthening the peace machinery between the two countries to a material degree.

Another aspect of the treaty is that it interlocks with the Bryan pact under which disputes of any character, without exception, must be submitted to conciliation for a period of at least 12 months before either power may resort to war or warlike preparations.

A Model for Future Treaties.
The new treaty represents the first change made in the Root treaties since they were negotiated.
It is the purpose of the Washington Government to model all existing arbitration treaties with other powers as they approach expiration, using the Franco-American covenant as a guide. In most cases it is expected that exactly the same language will be employed to standardize American peace undertakings, although in some instances a variation to include specific conciliation machinery where no paralleling Bryan treaty now exists will be necessary.

The signature of the treaty leaves the Briand-Kellogg convention over a pact renouncing war unchanged with no present indications as to what the outcome may be. The Washington Government was unwilling to make a treaty of this character with France exclusively, or to accept the French treaty that only war of aggression should be abandoned.

The Paris Government, because of other commitments, found it self unable to accept the Kellogg counter-proposal for a sweeping unqualified and renunciation of war to be incorporated in a staple treaty to be negotiated under Franco-American leadership.

Treaty Sent to Senate.
President Coolidge later sent the new treaty to the Senate for ratification.

Claudel, after signing the treaty, said it was with a deep feeling of emotion that on this 150th anniversary of the first treaty of alliance between America and France he affixed his seal on the new diplomatic instrument.
The first treaty gave the start to a new nation; the second treaty gives the start to a new idea," said the Ambassador. "Outlawry of war is specifically an American idea, not only because it is born in America, but because it shows

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—A new arbitration treaty with France was signed shortly after 11 o'clock this morning by Robert E. Olds, Undersecretary of State, for the United States, and Ambassador Paul Claudet for France.

Revision of peace treaties between the United States and France became an accomplished fact with signature of the pact.

The treaty supersedes the Root arbitration treaty which expires Feb. 27. It will become effective, however, only upon ratification by the legislative bodies of the two governments and the formal exchange of copies of the ratification.

The binding commitments of the treaty have to do entirely with arbitration of disputes which it may not be possible to settle by diplomatic means or through the arbitration machinery set up by the Bryan treaty. Under it, the two governments pledge themselves to arbitrate any dispute not arising from purely domestic questions in either country, not affecting the interests of a third nation, and not involving the Monroe doctrine. This represents a marked change from the language of the Root treaty which reserved arbitration matters affecting the vital interests or national honor of each country. To that extent, the new treaty is looked upon both here and in Paris as strengthening the peace machinery between the two countries to a material degree.

Another aspect of the treaty is that it interlocks with the Bryan pact under which disputes of any character, without exception, must be submitted to conciliation up to a period of at least 12 months before either power may resort to war or warlike preparations.

The Washington Government was unwilling to make a treaty of this character with France exclusively, or to accept the French theory that only war of aggression should be abandoned.

The Paris Government, because of other commitments, found it unable to accept the Kellogg proposal for a sweeping unconditional renunciation of war to be incorporated in a six-power treaty to be negotiated under Franco-American leadership.

Treaty Sent to Senate.

President Coolidge later sent the new treaty to the Senate for ratification.

Claudet, after signing the treaty, said it was with a deep feeling of emotion that on this 150th anniversary of the first treaty of alliance between France and the United States he was affixing his seal on the new diplomatic instrument.

"The first treaty gave the start to a new nation; the second treaty gave start to a new idea," said the Ambassador. "Outlawry of war is specifically American idea, not only because it is born in America, but because it shows

St. Louis Republic's Decline And Fall as Told in Letters Of the Late David R. Francis Newspaper in 1908 Stopped Paying Dividends and for Years Ex-Governor Paid Its Losses Personally.

THE TRAGEDY OF THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC.
(From the MSS. of David R. Francis, His Recollections and Letters, by Walter B. Stevens.) Reproduced by permission from the January number of the Missouri Historical Review, published by the State Historical Society of Missouri.

JOURNALISM beckoned to David R. Francis as the Universal Exposition of 1904 passed into history. President Francis visited European countries, carrying extraordinary credentials from Washington to make acknowledgments of the United States Government and to present gold medals from the United States mint for the foreign participation. He had adjusted his business affairs. He realized that his sons, upon whom he had imposed the responsibilities of much detail of his private business while he was engaged in the World's Fair administration, were fully equal to them. There seemed to be opportunity knocking for new activities. Then it was that Mr. Francis felt the appeal of newspaper management. The winding up of estates had brought into the market St. Louis Republic stock. Mr. Francis increased his holdings. His original motive some years previously had been to protect Charles W. Knapp, for whom he had a warm personal friendship dating back to the time when they had been of the first platoon in a crack St. Louis militia company, "The Engineers."

Enters Newspaper Field.

When additional purchases of Republic stock placed him in the position of largest stockholder, Mr. Francis thought seriously of giving his personal attention principally to the management of the property.

"I believe I would like newspaper work," he said. "I am thinking of taking hold of the Republic."

At that time Mr. Knapp was the editor. There was no lack of talent upstairs. What the Republic needed was aggressive organization and business management.

Under Col. John Knapp, the father of Charles W. Knapp, the St. Louis Republic—now not abbreviated—had been a notable money-maker, judged by local newspaper standards. It had created independent fortunes for three families. Its mechanical plant was not surpassed outside of New York. Its symbolic "coon topped one of the earliest skyscrapers in St. Louis."

But with the passing of Col. John Knapp, the paper was allowed to lean too much on prestige. The new journalism was ignored. The paper was paying dividends when Mr. Francis bought his first stock in it, about the time he ended his term as Governor of Missouri. Net earnings decreased gradually until 1908 when dividends were suspended.

Mrs. Charles W. Knapp argued that the falling off in profits was only temporary. Mr. Francis, applying his business standards, decided that the proper course was to conserve resources and build up the property. Once discontinued, dividends were never resumed. In 1912 the Republic failed to show any profit.

Struggle to Build Up Paper.

When he felt the urge to take the active management of the Republic, Mr. Francis recalled his newspaper experience during his first years as a clerk for the commission house of Shryock & Rowland. At that time he was a weekly reviewer of the St. Louis market for the St. Louis Times. The commercial editor of the Times was Maj. Henry Ewing, one of the earliest business friends of the young commission clerk.

But Mr. Francis was not permitted to carry out his newspaper purposes after the World's Fair. His help was sought in one enterprise after another. It was said that he had more partners than any other St. Louisan. Corporation after corporation sought him as a member of its directorate. His civic spirit was appealed to for use of his name and his thought in varied public movements. Was it any wonder that he never found the time to carry out his vision of newspaper management? He sought East, West, South and North for the expert help which might restore the century-old newspaper to its one-time commanding position. Manager succeeded manager. Editor followed editor. On the list were newspaper men who had proved their worth in other fields. Mr. Francis talked with successful publishers of newspapers in other cities and solicited suggestions which might meet the problem he had.

Sought Merger With Post-Dispatch.

He visited Joseph Pulitzer on Jekyll Island with the view of negotiating a merger of the Republic and the Post-Dispatch. "For the purpose of negotiating a union of the Post-Dispatch and the Republic" was the way he put it. But the visit was not satisfactory. Mr. Pulitzer put a valuation of approximately $3,000,000 on his paper. Mr. Francis expressed surprise at the estimate. But Mr. Pulitzer argued that the way to judge the value of a newspaper was to take the average net earnings for a period of years and divide by the number of shares. Mr. Francis pointed out that the Republic's net earnings were only about 15 cents a share. Mr. Pulitzer argued that the Republic was a fair per cent of return. When Mr. Francis took over the majority of the Republic stock about 1912, he made Collins Thompson secretary and treasurer of the company, and his personal representative. Mr. Thompson had been his secretary throughout the World's Fair period and his companion in his travels following the fair. In a letter from Petrograd, after he became Ambassador to Russia, Mr. Francis wrote to Mr. Thompson of the motives which had prompted him to acquire the newspaper and told of his growing disappointment with the results.

A Shattered Dream.

"I have been very solicitous lest the tone of the Republic should be lowered. I was willing to put more money into the paper provided I was sure who was on the ground and in touch with the situation were convinced that the outcome would justify the increased outlay. I have looked forward to the time when, having separated myself from the interests with which I have been identified, I could without embarrassment take charge of the paper myself. It seems, however, that I am going to die when I do die, and I hope that in a long way off—in the harness, which may after all be the best way to make an exit. I also do cherish the hope for many years that one or more of my sons would take up the journalism, and had a dream of making the Republic a family monument and source of income, and at the same time a great educator and an influence for good in the city and society of its publication. While that dream has not been realized, and in fact has been almost dissipated, the fact remains that the Republic is on my hands, and has been an established institution in St. Louis for more than 100 years. This imposes upon me a sense of obligation. I feel that it would be a reflection upon me for the paper to lose its influence, say nothing of its providing a financial failure under my control and ownership. I don't feel for a moment that I have been negligent of my duty to the Republic or to its stockholders, or to its readers, or to my mind of my position in the community and section where it circulates, and I have always attempted to fulfill the responsibility devolving upon me, and I have done so regardless of my personal interests, financial or political.

Own Story of His Life.

"I have lived in St. Louis for 51 years, having left my home in Kentucky when 15 years of age. After going to college four years in St. Louis, I was graduated in June, 1876, owing at that time $450. On the 8th of June, 1876, I began commercial life as a shipping clerk on the St. Louis River. In the days when the commerce of St. Louis and of the Mississippi Valley was on the wane, the Father of Waters and its tributaries from that time to this, a period of more than 47 years, I have never passed an idle month, and have experienced very few idle weeks or days. For more than 20 years I have been the head of my family and of my branches, because from that time I have been the oldest male survivor. I have been very active, if not prominent, in commercial life, and in public life generally. I have reared and educated a family of six sons; have held public office in city, State and Federal Government; have been active in public work, and in social, character; and flatter myself that I have been imbued with a fair degree of public spirit.

A Look Backward.

"I have thus hastily mentioned the salient points in my career to justify my somewhat boastful statement that I have wasted no time in life. I don't claim for a moment that I have not made mistakes, nor that, in the light of subsequent events, I could not have used my time and energies to better effect. An overwhelming percentage of the friends of my youth have passed away. A large majority of the colleagues of my mature manhood have joined the great majority. And now, almost every week brings to me in a foreign land, far removed from the scenes of my youth and manhood, intelligence of one or more of my associates crossing the divide.

"This is more reminiscence than I have done in any letter written since I left home, and I fear

BOXING GLOVES WEAPONS USED IN DUEL IN FRANCE

Challenger, Trowned by Critic in Ring, Announces "My Honor Is Washed."

Copyright, 1928, by The Press and Publisher Publishing Co. (The New York World and Post-Dispatch).

PARIS, Feb. 6.—A resident of the capital considered he had been ridiculed in a revue at a local theater. He provoked the author to single combat and the two agreed only natural weapons should be used. They had seconds and carried out the duel in the usual style. They chose eight-ounce gloves instead of the usual swords or pistols.

Five rounds of two minutes each were stipulated and they met in a gymnasium where a few of their friends gathered. The challenger, Librel, drew first blood with a blow to his opponent's mouth, but the contest went on. The author, Docquis, and the better of the rest of the fight and at the end Librel, his own face covered with blood, turned to the spectators and, pointing to the blood on his opponent's lips, exclaimed: "My honor is washed." Whereupon both men shook hands.

BRITISH DISTILLERS FIGHT FOR CUT IN TAX ON WHISKY

Only Export Trade Keeps Industry Alive, They Say, Under $2 a Bottle Government Levy.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Edwin Scrymgeour, only prohibition party member of the House of Commons; Lady Astor, temperance advocate, and others who hold similar views are in for a big fight against British liquor interests when Parliament assembles at Westminster tomorrow.

The distillers are waging a nationwide campaign to have the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Winston Churchill, remove the heavy tax on whisky, which has increased from about 35 cents a bottle in pre-war days to more than $2 a bottle.

Nowadays when one of King George's subjects buys a bottle of whisky he pays $3 for it, and $2 of that sum goes into the Government treasury.

The temperance advocates say the process of "taxing prohibition into existence" in Great Britain will continue because the Government needs the money.

Because of the tax the consumption of whisky in Great Britain is only about one-third of what it was in 1914, the distillers say. For during the last few years British farmers are losing orders for thousands of tons of barley which they used to sell to whisky makers. Distillers declare that for their export business the distilling industry of Great Britain would have been killed ere now.

Full page advertisements in the times and other newspapers are already in the air in their appeal for cheaper whisky.

ITALY IN DILEMMA OVER TREATY OFFER FROM U. S.

Kellogg's Anti-Submarine Success Awaits Decision from Mussolini, Alone.

ROME, Feb. 6.—Secretary Kellogg's declaration that the United States is willing to sign an anti-submarine treaty finds Italian official circles in dilemma.

The scant unofficial comment is to the effect that Italy must be governed by the decisions of her neighbors in the Mediterranean and Adriatic seas. In this conference it is pointed out that Italy has an immense coast line to defend and African possessions with which she must keep in constant touch.

Owing to the stand taken by France against abolition of undersea cable it is felt here that Italy cannot take the initiative in responding favorably to Kellogg's invitation. Attempts to solicit opinions from naval officials and foreign office spokesmen proved futile as it is realized that Premier Mussolini himself must render Italy's decision in the matter.

STRIKE IN INDIA FAILS

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The attempt to organize a general national strike in India, believed here to have been a fiasco since dispatches from London newspapers report no further manifestation of the reform commission on Indian reform, headed by Sir John Simon, which met a hostile reception on arriving in Bombay. The commission members new are at Delhi.

It is believed here the conciliatory attitude of Sir John and the members of the commission, with the help of moderate Indian opinion, will result in counteracting the effect of the boycott which has been effective in several sections of the country. However, in many large cities, says the Delhi Observer, the "hartal" or strike was not observed by Moslems at all and was generally a failure. The Observer's Bombay correspondent reports opposition in the Indian Legislature as a whole to the still determined not to co-operate with the Simon commission, but Mohammedans and non-Brahmins are vigorously spreading propaganda in support of the commission.

HUGHES HOPEFUL OF AGREEMENT ON INTERVENTION

Eight Nations at Pan-American Conference Oppose Report Reserving Right of Interference.

U. S. DELEGATION IN FAVOR OF CHANGE

Attack on Provision Led by Argentina—Last Article of Union's New Convention Up Today.

By the Associated Press.

HAVANA, Feb. 6.—The attack of eight Latin-American republics on the right of one nation to intervene in the affairs of another dominated the Pan-American conference today.

Preliminary conversations among chiefs of delegations were under way to determine the attitude they would assume in the special sub-committee appointed to pass upon the subject of the fundamental rights and duties of States.

The attack came suddenly Saturday afternoon after Charles E. Hughes, chief of the United States delegation, had promised the report of Dr. Victor Maurtua of Peru, unconditional support of the American Government. Dr. Maurtua's report expounded the principle that the independence of countries is co-equal with their duty not to interfere with or violate the rights of other States.

Regarded as Too Vague.

This was attacked as too vague. The Rio de Janeiro jurists' report saying "no State may intervene in the internal affairs of another" was urged in its stead.

The attack on the Maurtua report was led by Argentina, while Mexico, Honduras, Colombia and Uruguay joined in assailing it.

The United States delegation was optimistic today that a final agreement would be reached, but other delegates were wary of predicting what the final outcome of the sub-committee's work would be.

This committee will probably not meet for several days since a preliminary session is scheduled for tomorrow and the arrival of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh here on Wednesday is expected to cut short the work of the Congress.

Hughes' Point of View.

Hughes has frequently said that the duty of the International Law Committee is to codify existing and accepted principles of international law and not to try to amend or improve these.

The American delegation contends the proposal of Dr. Maurtua, originally adopted by the American Institute of American Law in 1916 and since then the subject of much favorable comment, is in fact an impartial, fair and comprehensive statement of what the law actually is which nations practice in their relations with each other.

The American delegation also contends the proposal elaborated in the Rio de Janeiro conference of jurists last April, containing the unqualified prohibition of all interventions, is on its face only a fragmentary statement of what the actual law of nations is, and would only be a correct definition of the matters, if by "intervention" were understood only interference designed to oblige foreign Governments to comply with illegal or unjust requests from other States.

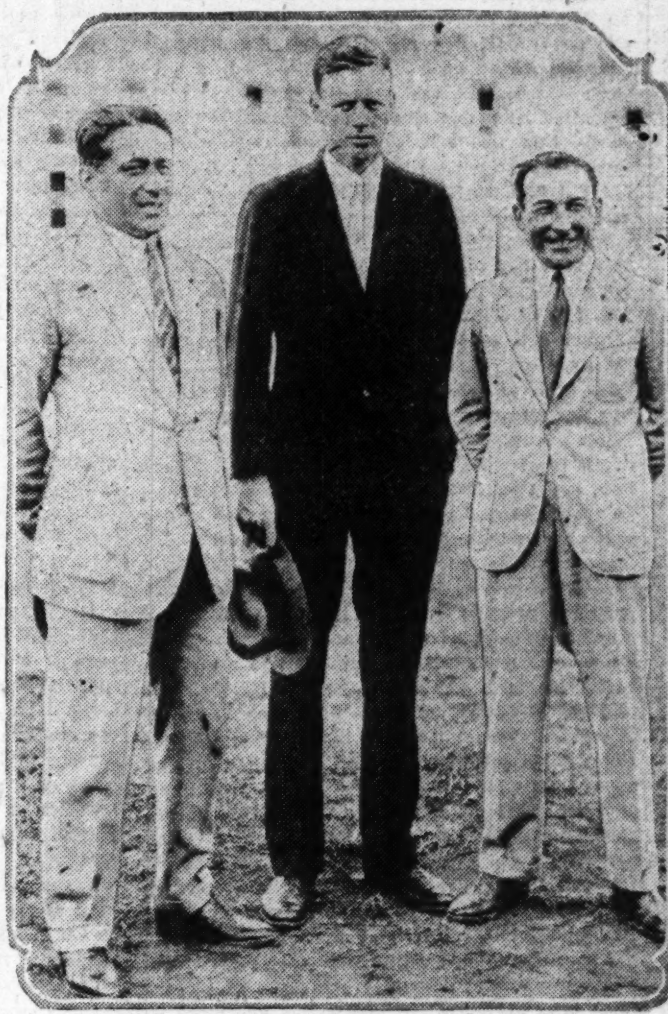

Drafted by Lawyers.

The American delegation stressed that in their opinion the Maurtua report is a positive statement which embraces both the rights and duties of nations and which would be misread completely, if conceived as restricting the sovereignty of the weaker nations and leaving opportunities for the stronger ones to exercise their strength.

Any correct codification of existing international practice, American delegates said would have to reach, through the rights and duties, the same conclusions as the draft, originally elaborated by the American Institute of International Law. This institute, which summarizes the principles of existing international law, is the most renowned Central and South American jurists, elaborated the project in question without the help of moderate Indian opinion, will result in counteracting the effect of the boycott which has been effective in several sections of the country. However, in many large cities, says the Delhi Observer, the "hartal" or strike was not observed by Moslems at all and was generally a failure. The Observer's Bombay correspondent reports opposition in the Indian Legislature as a whole to the still determined not to co-operate with the Simon commission, but Mohammedans and non-Brahmins are vigorously spreading propaganda in support of the commission.

By the Associated Press.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Feb. 6.—Completing a new lap of his good will flight that is carrying him to the Pan-American conference at Havana, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 2 p. m. this afternoon from Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic.

He left Santo Domingo at 11 a. m. and traveled in a roundabout way. The air line distance between the two points is only 160 miles.

Col. Lindbergh was kept busy until late last night. He was guest of honor at a brilliant ball at the Dominican presidential palace, which was decorated with flowers and lights. All the diplomatic body, members of the Government and prominent society figures attended.

The Colonel previously had been honored at a special celebration in the Syrian center, where a medal of honor was presented him. A huge crowd attended this function and speeches of felicitation were delivered.

A great military parade was held in his honor yesterday and he reviewed it to the cheering of a large crowd.

Evian E. Young, American Minister, gave him a luncheon which President Vasquez and other high officials attended. W. E. Pulliam, Receiver General of Customs, gave a reception in Lindbergh's honor, which the President again attended.

Port-au-Prince Has Public Holiday to Welcome Lindbergh.

By the Associated Press.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Feb. 6.—All Haiti prepared today to give a royal welcome to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. The city was never so beflagged before, the Haitian and American flags mingling everywhere. It was a public holiday.

During the night new street signs were posted, designating the principal avenues by the names of Lindbergh, Washington and Ball.

Early this morning the flow of spectators began pouring into the city. Gaily decorated automobiles entered the city gates, some from towns far distant. Hours before the American air hero was scheduled to arrive, marines and gendarmes took up their posts on Bow-en Flying Field to make certain that his flight of St. Louis should be properly guarded.

Over the great empty hangar which will house the Spirit of St. Louis was painted in huge black letters the symbolical "We" of worldwide fame. Detailed provisions were made in the reviewing stand for President Borno, his staff, Haitian school children and the school children of the foreign embassy.

FRENCHMEN FLYING TO ALABAMA CITY

By the Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 6.—Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Le Brix, French flyers, took off from here today for Montgomery, Ala. They expect to go to Washington tomorrow.

A public dinner in the French quarters concluded yesterday's activities. Mayor Arthur J. O'Keefe, Consul General de Simonin and Andre Lafargue were speakers.

Costes, a Captain in the French army, and Lebriz, a naval Lieutenant, expressed their appreciation for their reception and regret that they would be unable to remain longer in New Orleans. Each said he would return to France with an expression of good will from the country they had visited. Their prime purpose in visiting the United States was to repay Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's historic visit to Paris, they said, and they praised Lindbergh as the greatest of flyers.

Wonders If We Are Pro-British.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN YOUR articles on the navy's building program now before Congress, why do you not touch on the following:

Has any nation the right to arrogate to itself command of the seas as England has done for the past 300 years?

Has any nation or any country at any time in recorded history shown such a devotion to the principles of justice and fair dealing as to justify entrusting to such nation the tremendous power which command of the seas necessarily entails?

Has England?

England's representatives always talk of her defensive needs when as a matter of fact her navy has been used exclusively for the purpose of imposing her will on the rest of the world.

Do you think America should neglect her navy and run the risk of being "Copenhagened"?

Who was it who used to sing: "We have the ships, we have the men, we have the money too?"

When the first disarmament conference was held, wasn't the real reason of England's ready acquiescence in Hughes' plan the fact that we had so many more ships than she had, besides being in position to outstrip her in any building race? And when the second conference was held, didn't you think the failure to make an agreement was due to the fact that England had outbuilt us in several important departments, and gambling on her representatives' belief that we would not enter on another ambitious building program, she took an irreconcilable position? Was the question of parity frankly met by England, or is she simply biding her time until economic conditions shall permit her again to take up the naval program of two ships for every one of her near-est rival?

In reading your articles on this question which is of so importance to our country, I have sometimes wondered if your paper is not unduly pro-British. How about it?

IF THE Federalists refuse to clean U. S. Grant, let the Johnny Rebs have another opportunity. I think we can finish the job we began during the civil war. No apologies to Will Rogers. MINERVA MARK TWAIN.

An Ex-Marine on Nicaragua.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WHAT'S all this guff about marines being wanted in Nicaragua? The writer is an ex-marine, stationed in Managua, Nicaragua, during 1920-22, and I'll tell the world it was never more unwelcome in my young life. Am sending you a popular Central-American poem called "The Anguish of Santo Domingo," knocking America and the marines, taken from the liberal newspaper, La Tribuna, published at Managua.

Incidentally the publication of this poem and other articles caused the presses of La Tribuna to be partially wrecked by a crowd of marines, resulting in 33 of us being court-martialed (by order of Brown Brothers, I suppose, they being the controlling power at that time). But I will say this: "The Anguish of Santo Domingo" contains some truths, as I am an ex-Gyrene and I know the marines are in a awful hard-boiled lot when under the influence of tropic skies and rum.

FRANKLIN BECKER.

Those Russian Bonds.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I THINK your editorial on Russian bonds is a masterpiece. The big New York bankers do not deal in bonds for sentimental reasons. So Mr. Kellogg's advice has as much value to them as a Billy Sunday sermon.

How long will the thinking American public, both rich and poor, have to submit to bulldozing by political lame ducks and civic nitwits before they are able to bury them out in the lone prairie-e-e?

Collinsville, Ill. READER.

Hankers for "The Comedy of Errors."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE very delightful presentation of the "Merry Wives of Windsor," at the American Theater by Otis Skinner and his associates prompts me to offer a suggestion to the management of the Garden Theater. That is that they include in their repertoire this summer "The Comedy of Errors," which has not been seen on the boards of this city for some years.

In my humble judgment, this comedy is well suited to the situation at the Garden Theater, and if they find another player of the type of Mr. Otis Skinner, the two theatres would be impregnated with great success.

R. H. SWITZER.

W. A. Krug—Your complaint has been referred to the City Water Department—Editor's note.

WHY DID THEY FLEE?

There can be no doubt in the mind of the country as to why Col. Stewart has risked the wrath of the Senate in refusing to answer its questions. The men who organized the fake Continental Trading Company have something to hide. The contumacy of Col. Stewart, remarkable as it is, makes this no plainer than did the flight to Europe of Blackmer and O'Neil.

Why did they flee? We may be sure it was for no light reason. Men of their pronounced success and power do not easily forego place and country. They must have committed a crime. If they killed their stockholders, that was not a crime. If they organized an inside ring to make money for themselves, that was not, however unethical, a crime. They were not, presumably, the men who bribed Fall, nor did Fall, so far as we know get more than a very small part of the profits of the Continental.

What, then, did they do? When the exposure came they both fled to Europe. Stewart himself, despite his denials, at first fled and then returned. There was in the consciousness of all three men something which, so far as the evidence goes, has not yet come out. It must have been something vastly more grievous than to have got together by deception the money with which Fall was rewarded for turning Teapot Dome over to Sinclair. Sinclair himself is to be tried upon the charge of having bribed Fall, and there seems not the least chance that if he were convicted upon this charge the punishment would extend to those who were his intermediaries.

Blackmer and O'Neil were therefore in no danger of criminal prosecution. At least, it has not seemed from the developments that it was in the fear of criminal prosecution upon this score that they quit the country and resisted every effort to bring them back. Blackmer has even forfeited $100,000 of his property in the United States for failure to respond to service. They must, then, have had a reason of which the country is not aware. To speculate upon what that reason is leads to very startling possibilities. The Chicago Tribune says Mr. Harding should never have been made President. It thinks his well-known limitations should have barred him from consideration for the office. Unfortunately, the Tribune, which knew that then, did not say so. It was known all over Chicago the night before that Mr. Harding would be nominated the next morning. The Tribune, as the great party organ of Chicago, could have prevented the nomination and stood the convention upon its head by coming out the next morning with a protest against the nomination and a warning that if it were persisted in disaster would follow.

The Senate committee which has again taken up this scandal is a long way from the bottom of the teapot. There is something there of which we are undreaming, something perhaps beyond even the times sometimes darkly hinted of that amazing time. If that is not so, why did these men flee?

MR. MUECH, HUMORIST.

Our esteemed city counselor, Mr. Muech, is no mean humorist. He says the holding company organized by J. K. Newman and controlled by him and the North American Company can render the local street car utility every service necessary without taking over 49 per cent of its voting stock. He points out that under the law the holding company is permitted to hold 10 per cent and has already secured for the operating company a $1,000,000 loan, which would seem to meet all the requirements of whatever benevolences are necessary between the two corporations. However, Mr. Muech's tongue is in his cheek when he says this. He knows very well why the holding company wants 49 per cent of the stock instead of 10. It wants to issue securities, pyramided how many times we may only guess, and it cannot do this when it owns only 10 per cent of the stock.

THE RIVER BEGINS TO PAY.

River development has begun to pay dividends which even the most hardened skeptic is bound to respect. That is what the coming of the great warehouse of the J. C. Penney Co. to St. Louis actually means. For this we have the word of Glen G. White, president of the Penney Building Corporation, who says that the projected development of inland waterways was a determining factor in the locating of this establishment.

Thus is borne out the contention of the Post-Dispatch and other persistent advocates of river development that its revival would help the city. Cheaper transportation means a benefit both directly and indirectly. The products of the valleys can be exported more cheaply, and they can be exchanged at less expense. It likewise means that businesses which have hitherto distributed from other sections of the valley will locate in the valley, to avail themselves of lower costs. This, in turn, will mean that such businesses will come more and more to buy from manufacturers and importers located in the valley. The Penney Company is aware of this benefit. Other interests will see the same thing. River development is good business.

TACNA-ARICA.

If plans to have the Pan-American Conference take over the job of composing the pecky dispute over Tacna-Arica are successful, the United States can feel real relief for getting rid of a task which it should never have undertaken.

In retrospect, the commendable motive which led President Coolidge to try to settle this lengthy wrangle between Chile and Peru over this disputed territory seems like mistaken zeal. It was pointed out in the beginning by students of South American affairs that there was one of those disputes which could not be settled without arousing the anger of one side or the other against the arbitrator. It was quite as plain that the plan for a plebiscite of the inhabitants of Tacna-Arica, which was agreed upon in the treaty of Ancon, in 1883, after the war between Chile and Peru, was today highly impracticable, and could only result in violence, and perhaps, even civil war. Nevertheless, the United States did not appreciate this. Other proposals failing, we seized upon the plebiscite as the one sure cure. But before we could bring it about somehow acquainted with the peculiar local conditions appears to have given us some counsel. Perhaps, Gen. L. A. Smith, who had succeeded Gen. Pershing as our representative on the Joint Commission, gave up and came home. Then, to crown the debacle, Secretary Kellogg proposed that the territory be ceded to Bolivia, a proposal well calculated to anger both Chile and Peru.

Thus ended, apparently, a most unfortunate chapter in our diplomatic history. If we were to learn nothing from it, the affair would, indeed, be worse than unfortunate. But if it should teach us to be wary about interfering in Latin American affairs, of which we know little and cannot conceivably solve, the result of the debacle will not be a dead loss.

PRESIDENT COSGRAVE'S VISIT.

Was there ever a quieter, more peaceful visitation than President Cosgrave's? He is already on his way back to Ireland, having been the guest of honor at numerous dinners and receptions. From all accounts he had a very pleasant time and we have not read of one controversial utterance from his lips. He was amazed by our industry and the magnitude of our business. He said he had never seen so many automobiles. He was impressed by our big cities, by our radio hook-ups, by our factories and our farms. Even in Chicago, where Big Bill Thompson, the arch-foe of King George received him, hardly a ripple appeared on the surface. If Cosgrave and Bill had a private talk about Johnny Bull, nothing was said about it.

Is not this significant that a change has come over Ireland? Surely, Cosgrave is not the type of visiting Irishmen to which we have been accustomed. Seemingly he is not interested in politics at all, or in international affairs, but rather in the price of tractors, the details of our railroad service, how we build such tall buildings—in short, he wants to know all about the arts and sciences of peace. How different is all this from De Valera, who appeared before us to argue his case that the Irish people have been traduced and betrayed, or from Miss MacSwiney who came to tell about the political martyrdom of her brother.

De Valera, too, is strangely silent now. It is hardly thinkable that four or five years ago he would have permitted such a visit as Cosgrave's without injecting the subject of Ireland's freedom. Cosgrave did not meet De Valera here at all, though on one occasion he went to a reception at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York where the Irish Republican leader was registered. We are not privy to the intricacies of Irish politics, but it looks as though Ireland has put dissension behind her, and is proceeding along new lines of interest. Certainly Cosgrave is a new sort of Irish statesman. If he has none of the dash of the Parnells and the Emmets, he has the solidity that is necessary for the job of running a responsible government.

Cosgrave's regime illustrates the fallacy of the old notion that the Irish cannot govern themselves. For 700 years they fought to get a government, and they produced a grand array of fighters. Now that they have it, Ireland is producing Cosgraves. The latter are perhaps less charming and colorful, but they are better suited to the present needs of the Free State.

UNOFFICIAL LAW ENFORCEMENT.

With the approval of the Madison County Farm Bureau and of county officials, an anti-chicken-stealing association, to be known as the Madison County Farmers' Guard, is to be organized in Edwardsville on Feb. 15. Its aim, the prevention of chicken stealing, is of itself good.

Let residents of Madison County beware, however, lest the Farmers' Guard, like the old anti-horse-stealing associations and the Ku Klux Klan, become, in its campaign to stamp out lawlessness, an Old Man of the Sea upon the back of the community. The State provides the official means of enforcing the law and the citizens of any community can have an efficient law enforcement machine if they really want it. An unofficial law enforcement body, no matter how meritorious its expressed aim may be, is always a potential danger to the peace and security of a community and its citizens.

TEN SPEECHES.

Ten speakers addressed the crowd at the cornerstone laying of the new courthouse last Friday. Here is what they said:

Judge Rutledge: "Our courthouse will be the tallest courthouse in the world."

City Counsellor Muech took a nose dive into the future and asked rhetorical questions, which no one could answer, about what life would be like 100 years hence when the cornerstone would be opened. "Seriously," he concluded, "let me say this structure marks the beginning of a distinct new era in St. Louis." Not bad, eh? A new era.

President Neun of the Board of Aldermen, in effect, agreed. It was a new era.

Judge Frey went into reverse and told all about St. Ange de Belleve who set up the first court here in 1765.

Judge Daues of the Court of Appeals said his office would be at the very tip-top of the building.

President Green of the Missouri Bar Association spoke for "the unborn generations" and told of their gratitude.

Attorney-General Gentry hoped the courthouse "would be the permanent abiding place of justice."

Mayor Miller spread a trowelful of mortar, and little else.

Albert Burgess, Negro lawyer, praised the community.

Lon Hocker prayed.

No one touched on the present state of justice.

REED'S CHANCE.

While Gov. Smith continues to act like a Sphinx in his Albany domicile, Senator Reed is preparing to make things hum in the tobacco and cotton belts. A Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Evening Sun writes his paper that Reed forces are preparing to get the Senator named as second choice for the presidential nomination by a number of Southern delegations.

A more astute play under the circumstances would be hard to imagine. The South, if appearances are not deceptive, is dead anxious to follow somebody. It is only necessary that the one followed have a brilliant and inspiring personality. The South is nowadays short on statesmen who have this invaluable thing. The Heflins and Bleases may seem to have it; they really don't, because they can't help but seem funny when they are trying to be most serious. The South once produced statesmen who had it, and the memory lingers on.

Smith, true enough, has plenty of personal appeal. So long as he refuses to let the country appreciate it, there will be a clear track for Missouri's white-headed boy. When it comes to personality, he is the head man in our political show. If any Southerners try to mess up his tour through Dixie, they are apt to wake up thinking that a new Sherman has marched to the sea.

GANG ETHICS—HIGH AND LOW.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

A ST. LOUISAN'S NOVEL IN LONDON.

Hamish Miles in the London Outlook, reviewing "God Got One Vote" by Frederick Halitt Brennan (British edition):

GOD GOT ONE VOTE is American and unadulterated—lush, noisy, hurrying, chaotic, lavish, with bursts of gritty cynicism and great blobs of sentimentality like sticky marshmallows. Mr. Brennan, I feel sure, is a journalist. His book is the sort of novel the more intelligent American newspaper men frequently turn out, flinging into a rough mold of fiction their observation and recollection of years of this dizzying scene. These books are often very readable and illuminating in spite of their quite ephemeral character and God Got One Vote is a very good sample. Its hero is one Patrick Van Hoes—a brawny bricklayer in a mid-western city, who entered politics on the day of the Bryan-McKinley election in the following agreeable manner:

... there was no more doughy Democratic worker than Patrick. He voted twice. He had five fights. He personally, alone and unassisted, chased 14 niggers away from the poll. He bought and helped to drink 12 rounds of varied alcoholic beverages with undecided voters and escorted them to the polling place. All day he ragged through the precinct accosting males with his simple, straightforward formula, "Are you for Bryan? If you ain't, you got a bust on the nose."

Small wonder that Mr. Van Hoes succeeded in life, or rather, to be fair to Mr. Brennan's sound sense of values, in politics. He married or was trapped into marriage by a frigid but ambitious young schoolmistress, who civilized him enough to make him a really efficient political boss in the State; if he had been just a little less stubborn he might have hoisted him into the Senate. It is a picture of a Boss's career which readers in this country—especially perhaps in this year of a presidential election—will find peculiarly fascinating. The dreadful revelation of what it means to be a co-ed flapper in the Harding-Coolidge era are already more familiar to the startled Briton. The K. K. K. episode gives Mr. Brennan some lively copy. Altogether, an amusing night's reading; if you let the full flood of the book's salty pagantry batter your senses sufficiently, you may even swallow without a quail the great final marshmallow on page 319.

THE TOURIST INDUSTRY.

From the Minneapolis Tribune.

THE tourist business in Minnesota for 1927 aggregated $12,000,000, according to the calculation of H. C. Hotelling, executive secretary of the Ten Thousand Lakes Association, who has been in his strategic position long enough to learn how to size up the situation in one season in comparison with situations in earlier seasons. He finds that the gain of 1927 over 1926 is about 15 per cent. Mr. Hotelling sets the number of tourists this year at 1,441,191, compared with 1,248,357. There were 214 resorts of record in the office of the secretary, whereas three years previously there were only about 600. Resort accommodations that time have increased about 100 per cent. This is evidence enough that the tourist industry has been growing. It has been many years since Minnesota produced a wheat crop that was worth $12,000,000.

If there ever was such a crop, and yet it is not so many years ago as men's lives go that Minnesota was thought of primarily and almost exclusively by outsiders as a wheat and flour state.

UTILITY OF ORIENTAL LANGUAGES.

From the Detroit News.

IN the high schools of Hawaii a successful experiment is being made with regular courses of instruction in Oriental languages for Anglo-Saxon pupils. While the demand for such teaching originally arose because of the preponderance of students of Oriental extraction in the schools of the territory, the educational authorities soon realized that large numbers of the island's young men of non-Oriental descent were keenly interested.

The time has come when a similar experiment should be attempted in this country on a larger scale than has been done so far.

GOV. PINCHOT ON POWER.

From the New York Times.

IN AN article in The Nation on "Who Owns Our Rivers?" Gifford Pinchot attacks the public utility lobby in Washington for opposition to the Boulder Dam project. He welcomes Mr. Owen Young's conditional acceptance of government intervention where navigation and flood control are involved. The inference is that Mr. Pinchot would like to see such a standard established: But later on, discussing the "four lines of defense" the power companies have set up against it, he declares that their fourth line of defense is to "institute the Government-made current with every possible or impossible expense," in the hope of hampering the enterprise. "Here is where the demand of Arizona and Nevada for the right to tax the Government property fits the hand of the power companies like a glove."

Mr. Pinchot evidently didn't try the glove on his own hand first. If he had, he might have discovered that it fitted there even better. It is possible to urge an actual test between public and private ownership, both plants running side by side and on the same footing. It is equally possible to contend that public enterprises should be cushioned all about with special 2-cent like tax exemption. But these are alternative positions, and when Mr. Pinchot takes both in the same brief isn't he simply arguing both sides against the middle?

One weakness of most experiments in Government ownership is that they are so constituted, or their accounts are kept in such a way, that they seldom afford the very test for which Mr. Pinchot, by inference, pleads. Into their treasuries flow all manner of subsidies. They tend to warp the results, and either destroy the value of the experiment altogether or sink it in a bog of controversy, like that which rages in Ontario. Advocates of Government ownership delight in the achievements of the Postoffice Department, which "pays for itself." There are plenty of conclusive reasons for maintaining the postal service as a public enterprise, but the operating figures would tell a very different story if they were made to include such items of expense, as these, interest and amortization.

Delightfully Preposterous

THE HAUNTED HOUSE. By H. H. Belloc. (Harpers.)

WHEN Mr. Belloc sits down to write something, he can be one of several well assorted persons. He is, on occasion, a wise and learned scholar, producing sound historical studies. Again, he seems to sit down for casual chats with intimate friends, and the result is a clever informal essay. Another day he slips down to the floor and has an energetic romp with the youngest generation, and his buoyant humor brings forth a gay thing like "The Bad Child's Book of Beasts." To prove his strain of poetry is not all grotesque, he can show flowing lyrics that remain in the memory. Nor does this Gallic Britisher refrain from argument, as will be seen from his perhaps less enduring polemical works.

This time Mr. Belloc displays the side of him that writes novels of the conversational sort that do not take their characters too seriously. Writing mostly with tongue in cheek, he makes excursions from the course of his narrative to draw an occasional portrait, always a bit malicious. But were it not for these portraits, which come to life very nicely, the framework of the whole improbable tale would be all the more viable.

It really is a most preposterous story of a house, his lost bright right, which the hero must contrive to make appear haunted so other buyers will be frightened away and his own slender purse will be able to purchase it. His ambitions include a girl, too—an American girl, Mr. Belloc, like too many English writers, has great difficulty in making an American girl talk. This one wouldn't be recognizable outside an English novel. The hero is a capable ventriloquist, so the house becomes satisfactorily haunted, a pathetic and bloated profiteer is frightened almost into apoplexy, and the usurping aunt is properly subdued.

When he has finished the book, the reader is sure Mr. Belloc had a most enjoyable time writing it. He hopes Mr. G. K. Chesterton had an equally lovely time drawing the illustrations, but is forced to conclude that as an illustrator, Mr. Chesterton is an eminent writer of detective stories. The burlesque of his drawing is several degrees rougher than that of the story. The many-sided Mr. Belloc has this time produced a ghost story that will not freeze anyone's marrow, but will stimulate many a chuckle. FRED GOTTLIER.

'WINGS' DRAMATIC FILM OF THE AIR FIGHTERS

Latest Movie of Conflict "Over There" Ranks With Best of Screen Offerings.

By FREDERICK H. BRENNAN.

QUITE a lot less intelligence went into the making of "Wings" than into its prototype, "The Big Parade," and "What Price Glory," but it is a great picture in its way as either a do with war? Leave that philosophic stuff at home and go down to the American Theater this week with "Wings" and plenty of handkerchiefs. Be ready to dry your tears and yell, "Hurray for the United States Army Air Service!"

Jim of "The Big Parade" was rather a wash-out as a soldier, yet he divided a square with a dying German in a shell hole. Capt. Plagg of "What Price Glory" was tender with a wounded boy who screamed his unadmitted questions at the roof of a dugout. But in "Wings" aviators John Powell and David Armstrong are not troubled by musings of a pacifistic sort. "All right," they yell, "O. K." Consistent. Give 'em the gun. Up and at those. Blankety-blank. Germans, and may the machine guns never jam!

The realism of "The Big Parade" and "What Price Glory" came from sober afterthoughts of a Captain who lost a leg over there, and down in blizzards and irony when the tom-toms beat no more. "Wings" has a more contemporaneous realism. It is racy with the heroes of 1917, when the bugles were sounding and Four Minute Men were shouting, and Lieut. John Monk Saunders who wrote the story was in a training camp, and when most of us believed the Germans made soap out of Belgian babies. Unconsciously "Wings" has captured the spirit of those days and carried it until the last Tank named Spad filled the last February down in flames behind the St. Mihiel front.

As in the case of its predecessor, "Wings" has a simple and rather trivial story, which goes to war and gathers to itself the tremendous significance and overwhelming tragedy of that conflict. It would stand as a picture worth seeing (even at this point from the incomparable aerial photographs

HOW 600 of the Biggest Advertisers in St. Louis Bought Space in 1927

For eighteen consecutive years the Post-Dispatch issued "The Fifty Biggest"—an announcement showing how fifty or more of the largest advertisers in St. Louis in various classifications used space in all St. Louis daily and Sunday newspapers. For 1927, because of the increasing number of large advertisers, the title is changed to "The Sixty (69) Biggest" which shows, as in previous years, an overwhelming preference for St. Louis' ONE BIG newspaper—the POST-DISPATCH.

The Post-Dispatch guarantees that no advertiser in its columns enjoys any special rate, privilege or concession not available to all other advertisers. For that reason advertisers who are given special concessions of any kind by other newspapers are not included in this listing.

The Advertisers listed at the right used 7,307,856 lines more in the POST-DISPATCH ALONE than in the Globe-Democrat—8,187,347 lines more than in The Star—9,594,097 lines more than in The Times and 2,611,970 lines more than in ALL THREE others COMBINED.

will consider it an indication of decline in vigor or mentality—these have been born of an inspiration put to myself by myself to whether I am in any way responsible to any extent for the loss of influence and position, not to mention revenue, sustained by the Republic. I am far away from the Republic, and have been so long separated with conditions in the newspaper world in St. Louis, and in America that I must leave the management and fate of the paper in these in the deep interest you take in the welfare of the property, I am convinced that I made no mistake in placing you in the position you now hold, however, that the management of the property has not enabled it or me to aid you more effectively, in order that you might realize the possibilities which your aid to offer. Don't think for a moment that I cherish in the slightest degree any feeling or thought that you have not given your time and endeavor to the Republic, which is a source of satisfaction to me. Your disapproval that the outcome has not been more satisfactory is only good to me.

Of the 500 shares of the Republic stock outstanding, Mr. Brown and members of his family owned 207 3/4. The average daily net circulation for March, 1916, the month before the American sailed, was 111,372. The paper had not been heavy up to that time. Replying to a farewell message from the staff of the paper he wrote:

"Somehow I feel more hopeful at the paper than I have for some time past. It appears to me there is a different spirit pervading the whole force."

In a letter from shipboard to Mr. W. Brown, the editor, Mr. Brown said: "My separation from you is so great and communication so long that I am at a great disadvantage. Leaving the Republic was one of my greatest mistakes in the way of going to Europe."

From the spring of 1916 to the fall of 1917, the letters of the ambassador contained frequent mention of his "concern" about the Republic. Print paper advanced rapidly until it had more than doubled in price and was hard to get. Wages and salaries increased steadily on newspapers as on all other kinds of business. Receiving the report that the Republic had fallen short of paying expenses by $27,400 in the first six months, Mr. Brown wrote to the editor:

"I am sorry to hear that the Republic is in such a bad way. I have been away from the paper for some time, but I have been thinking of it all the while. I have been thinking of the Republic as a source of inspiration and of the Republic as a source of revenue."

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels. The Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural function, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Give you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, drowsy feeling, no ambition or energy, bile with undigested food, constipation, the substitute for Olive Tablets, the substitute for a laxative. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a truly vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their color. They do the work of a laxative, griping, cramps or pain, without any of the harmful effects of a cathartic. Eat what you like. Take one or two at bedtime for relief. Eat what you like.

Treat Children's Coughs Wisely

Mother you are careful of the food your children eat and of the clothes they wear. You are equally careful of the medicine you give them. Adult medicine, even in small doses, often is too strong for delicate little children. The safe, therefore, and as soon as your child shows signs of cough or cold, give them Am-o-loz. Am-o-loz is prepared especially for children. It contains no narcotics, no strong drugs, nothing injurious or harmful. It is a mild, pure, vegetable remedy for children's coughs and colds. It has proved meritorious by 20 years use. Given in time, Am-o-loz stops children's coughs right off and soothes tender, tickling, inflamed little throats. It loosens the tightness around the child to breathe much easier. It breaks a cold and helps ward off dangerous pneumonia which sometimes follow.

Am-o-loz. Your druggist will recommend it and guarantee it to give satisfactory results in a short time. Results will prove that Am-o-loz is the way to give children only child's medicine.

When children need a laxative, the best and most economical one we know is Triene. In addition to its other mild correctives, it contains a wash grape juice.

months of 1916, the Ambassador wrote to the editor, Paul W. Brown:

"Suppose you know that the Republic is giving me a great deal of concern. Notwithstanding the efforts you all are making, the financial results are far from satisfactory."

Talks of Selling Out.
To his personal representative, Collins Thompson, he sent this: "I wish the Republic did not give me so much concern. Sometimes I feel disposed to sell it at whatever it will bring. Do you think it is possible to put it upon its feet? I cannot see why St. Louis, with its surrounding country, cannot support two morning dailies. You have a community with a population of 1,000,000, and there must be 1,200,000 people who can get the morning paper at their breakfast tables."

Those were months which tried newspaper men's souls. The Republic's experience was no exception. There were consolidations, divorces, suspensions of dividends, controversies with advertisers over increased rates. Advances in subscription prices were general.

In August the Republic, as did most of the other morning papers, raised its price. The charge on street sales was from one to two cents. The immediate effect was a decrease in circulation notwithstanding the foreign interest in war news. Republic street sales dropped 6000 in a few days. Carriers lost 2000 patrons.

As did some other newspapers, the Republic resorted to subscription contests to offset the declining circulation. In the case of the Republic, results, at least temporarily, were gratifying, so much so that the manager, Mr. Lilley, was able to write to the Ambassador: "The Republic made a profit in October for the first time in three years."

Met Losses Out of Own Pocket.
The November showing also was good. The Ambassador wrote to Collins Thompson:

"I have received a cable giving the welcome intelligence that the November business of the Republic showed a balance of $11,000 on the right side of the ledger. I do hope that the December business will not show a loss. What I most fear, however, is the business of the new year, into which, of course, the cost of print paper under the new contract, will enter."

The apprehensions were well founded. The net circulation of the Republic, temporarily sustained by the subscription contest, soon again began to decline. In February, 1917, it had fallen to 104,291. While the monthly gap between income and outgo fluctuated somewhat, the end of the year showed worse than the preceding annual statement.

Through 1917 and 1918 Ambassador Francis bore this burden, meeting the monthly deficits from his private resources. More wearing than the money losses was the sense of failure in a long career, almost without precedent, of successes. Compared with the stress and strain of diplomatic service in Russia, the experience with the Republic may seem insignificant, but it was the last straw. The Ambassador, with Russian affairs still taxing him, came back to the United States in the winter of 1918-1919, to find the Republic in desperate straits. He wrote from White Sulphur Springs, where he was recuperating:

"Have received your statements of January, February and March business of the Republic and find them, as you say, anything but encouraging; $73,962.65 loss for the first three months of this year is positively discouraging. It is worse than I feared. At this rate the loss for 1919 will approach $300,000."

Paper Owed Firm $601,000.
To Festus J. Wade, who, as president of the Mercantile Trust Co., represented some minority stockholders in the Republic, Ambassador Francis wrote on May 9, 1919, from Rye Beach, where he was convalescing from the London operation:

"The Republic owes Francis, Brother & Co. $601,000, which I have guaranteed to the firm, and the trial balance shows an additional monthly loss of considerable amount. I endeavored to keep in touch with the Republic's affairs when in Russia, but on account of the irregularity and infrequency of the mails was unable to do so as closely as I desired. However, I think that I could not have managed the property any better than the directors who were in St. Louis and had the administration of affairs in my absence. To say that I was shocked upon learning of the indebtedness of the Republic would inadequately express my feelings upon receiving that information. For your information and for that of any of those whom you represent, I would say that I would not purchase their holdings at any figure. I have not proceeded to foreclose the mortgage securing this indebtedness lest it should injure the prestige of the paper, and furthermore have constantly hoped that each month would show an improvement in the business, but I am on the verge of concluding that my expectations of improvement are elusive and my hopes in vain. Have you anything to suggest?"

His Views on Policy.
All of the advances required to keep the Republic going Mr. Francis had made without calling upon the minority stockholders. For 10 years and more his mind had been open on newspaper management. As he traveled he had sought information from successful newspaper men. He had given a free hand to the successive editors and managers of the Republic. These comments will illustrate about as far as he went in his own opinions.

"I can give no suggestions from here about how the paper should be managed, but have written several times that to my eye a paper with less display headlines and with a dignified typographical dress would be more pleasing. At the same time Lilley may be better acquainted with the tastes of the Republic readers or subscribers than I am."

"I think I have called attention to the light manner in which the Republic seems to treat all subjects whether serious or not."

But the most pointed illustration of Mr. Francis' open-handed policy toward the Republic was given in the closing months of its career. "The New Era" it was heralded. What this meant in the Republic's policy was explained by the new editor, Sam Hellman, in a letter of May 27, 1919, to Mr. Francis:

"I am confident," he said, "that the Republic can be made the greatest and most prosperous paper that it should be if we will help to the line of real democracy and consistently get out a paper in which the people of this territory will have confidence."

Sam Hellman's Advice.
"In the past the Republic has devoted too much of its space and energies to the so-called society people. We have defended big business at every turn, fought labor unions, derided social reformers and otherwise distinguished ourselves as a class organ—a paper of the property interests of the city."

"And what has the Republic gained by its championship of the vested interests? Nothing. The rich advertiser whom we defended at every turn gave his advertising to the Post-Dispatch—a newspaper that has always fought for the masses, or pretended to. The wealthy class have praised us for our editorial attitude, eulogized the P.D., and then given all their business to the P.D. The reason is simple. The Post reached the masses and the advertiser wanted to reach the masses. He did not let his personal likes or dislikes interfere with his business."

"So much for the material end. Today we are getting out a paper for the people because we think it is the right thing to do. We are not fighting rich people. On the contrary we are defending honest accumulation with all our might. What we are fighting is profligacy, selfishness and inhumanity, unfair industry, greed and dishonest competition. We believe that every man has the right to acquire wealth, but we do not believe that he has the right to acquire it at the expense of wasted children and overworked and underpaid men and women. We believe in a fairer distribution of the good things of life. The New Era means a

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, U.S. Senator from New York and ex-Health Commissioner of New York City, is a regular national authority on public health.

Dr. Copeland Says:

"Mineral waters of the right sort are preferable to many cathartic compounds. Their power to overcome the immediate effects of constipation is unquestioned. In their effects upon the bowel and its lining membranes they are far less irritating. Indeed, many have qualities that make them soothing and healing. Sugar-coated pills are pleasant to take, which may add to their danger. They are no less habit-forming and drastic because they appeal to the taste."

Pluto Water, with its mineral content, flushes the bowels and washes away impurities. It is gentle, soothing, healing, non-habit-forming. Corrects constipation and restores normal bowel movements. Acts in 30 minutes to 2 hours.

The New Era Plan.
"The Republic faces this difficulty. The people are not yet convinced that we are sincere. After 100 years of fighting for the vested interests, it is hard for the masses to understand that we have taken up the cudgels in their behalf."

"Consistent plugging along our New Era line will bring its rewards. Of course everything cannot be done in this department. The best article in the world will not sell unless its merits are made known. I believe we need a big promotion and advertising campaign to get the paper into the hands of the people."

"My faith in the Republic is best exemplified by the fact that I left an excellent position on the Post-Dispatch, with day work, to come to the Republic at approximately the same salary to work 24 hours a day. I want to see the Republic go over and go over big. It is my first love and I want to be with it when The Day arrives."

The Final Collapse.
Through spring, summer and fall months the circulation of the Republic failed to show the circulation gains hoped for. There were unmistakable evidences of slipping, especially in the carrier service. At the request of Mr. Francis a survey was made.

Stop orders received by carriers between Jan. 1 and Sept. 30, 1919, were analyzed. The names, the occupations and the reasons in these discontinuances were taken and a compilation was made. It showed that the large majority of the losses came in two classes, wage earners and subscriptions expiring on premium contracts.

"The paper was losing money at such a rate it would have broken me if I had kept on advancing money," said Mr. Francis. I was compelled to sell to the Globe-Democrat.

The last issue of the Republic, which was born in 1808 as the Louisiana Gazette, appeared on the morning of Dec. 4, 1919.

two marks of your country, it is great and it is practical. "Out-lavry of war" is one of those well-known phrases which not only have a striking meaning but a working power. France is very thankful to Mr. Kellogg for his splendid initiative in proposing this new treaty of arbitration."

Today was the 150th anniversary of the first Franco-American treaty with its solemn declaration that "there shall be a firm, inviolable and universal peace, and a true and sincere friendship between the most Christian King, his heirs and successors, and the United States of America," and also of the first treaty of any character entered into by the American Government. It is the anniversary of the first recognition by any Power of American nationalism as it had been asserted in the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776.

But the new treaty goes far beyond the assertions of peace and friendship contained in the original covenant. It not only asserts that war between the two nations is unthinkable, but it sets up new and strong machinery for the adjustment of disputes between them which might otherwise lead to war.

What Doctors Think of the Laxative Habit

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clear up the condition with some laxative made with CASCARETS, there's nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowels' muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take only a candy cascaret. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purges that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from cascara is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara; and any druggist has the candy cascarets.

WARRANTS DENIED FOR 92 TAKEN IN HANDBOOK RAID

Circuit Attorney's Office Holds Evidence Insufficient as Bets Were Not Placed Before Arrests.

LOSERS' WIVES GAVE TIPS ON GAMBLERS

Though No Prosecution Will Result Chief Gerk Calls Saturday's Round-Up the "Opening Gun."

Police today found they could not make gambling cases against 92 proprietors of 62 alleged handbook establishments arrested Saturday.

The raids were made without placing bets beforehand to obtain evidence—a method of trapping bookmakers that was declared proper by the State Supreme Court several hours before the wholesale round-up by 140 detectives.

As a result, when the detectives applied for warrants, Assistant Circuit Attorney Wilson refused them and rejected racing forms and memoranda seized in the raids as insufficient evidence.

In the future, police will attempt to make their cases by placing bets with marked money, then raiding handbook establishments and charging the proprietors with being custodians of bets. Those arrested Saturday were booked as "suspected of gambling" and warrants charging gambling were sought.

As soon as bonds in which they were held expire, they will be released. From past experience, police have learned it is useless to attempt to make vagrancy cases against them in police courts.

Wives Give Information. Commenting on Saturday's raids, Chief of Police Gerk disclosed that tips on handbook places were received by police in complaints from wives and relatives of men who had been gambling away their wages.

"The complaints have been piling up for some time, and Saturday we fired the opening gun against bookmakers," said Chief Gerk.

"Many of the people who complained to us declared foremen in factories were acting as go-betweens for handbooks and weather lotteries. The foremen even went so far as to make their own handbooks and compel men working under them to place bets. In some cases employees who did not bet were laid off on that account."

Forced Employees to Bet. "I received complaints that a certain foreman in a shoe factory had forced his subordinates to bet on the horses. I took this up with the factory head, and the foreman was promptly discharged."

"Employers generally will co-operate with us when they know the facts. It would be well if factory executives, and office managers, too, would post notices, forbidding gambling on the premises."

The raids, in Chief Gerk's opinion, will have a wholesome effect. The horse race betting fever has spread until of late it has been possible to place a bet in almost any cigar store, he said. The decision of the Supreme Court upholding the trapping of bookmakers by placing bets to obtain evidence was "encouraging," he added, but did not prompt the raids. No effort was made to place bets before the raids.

LOSS OF SHIP INDICATED IN UNDECIPHERABLE NOTE Faded Message Found in Bottle Washed Ashore Off Coast of Virginia.

By the Associated Press. NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 6.—A stained, faded message that washed ashore in a bottle near the mouth of the Elizabeth River yesterday is believed by those who attempted to decipher it to hold a secret of another tragedy at sea. Only a few scattering words could be read. It appeared to have been written by the skipper of a sinking ship.

The date, "May, 1926," the name "T. T. Mercer" or "Mercer," and a reference to something being worth $25,000 and a Norfolk lawyer were made out on the first of four pages, apparently torn from a note book. On the second page only the words "He was in the boat" could be deciphered. The third page read "— my lawyer — take of it — — tell him I have gone down on the Cape — —"

The last name of the ship appeared to be May or Mary. The fourth page was so badly damaged that it added little. The part decipherable read "— is in New York — boat — — may — — the water." And the concluding sentence was "God bless my true men."

The bottle and message were placed in the hands of shipping authorities. No record has been found of a disaster to a vessel named Cape May or Cape Mary in 1926.

URGES INCREASE IN BAPTIST FOREIGN MISSION FUNDS

W. C. Coleman, Business Man, Says Church Has Been Remiss in That Field.

The Baptist Church has done creditable work in America, but has been markedly remiss in the foreign mission field in the past five years, W. C. Coleman, business man of Wichita, Kan., who heads the Northern Baptist convention, told a congregation yesterday morning in the Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington boulevards.

Recommending immediate steps to bring the mission funds up to their former height, from which they have declined consistently since 1922, Coleman declared that if the church continued to let the mission lapse "it would be a sin."

His address was applauded when he finished. He spoke later at Delmar Baptist Church, the Second Baptist Church and the Webster Groves Baptist Church.

THE FIRST silver coin of dollar size was made in 1486, six years before Columbus landed. It was coined for the province of Tyrol by Sigismund, Archduke of Austria, and was known as a "taler." PRISONER ACCUSED OF MEMPHIS MURDER Woman Says Freeman Gunion, Arrested as Counterfeiter, Killed Man.

Freeman Gunion, held by Federal authorities for counterfeiting operations in St. Louis, has been implicated in a Memphis, Tenn., murder by a woman who was living with him here as his wife.

The woman is Elizabeth White, 24 years old, a waitress, also known as Gunion. She was arrested yesterday afternoon at 2702 Washington boulevard, where she was rooming with her 3-year-old son.

Gunion was arrested a week ago while attempting to pass counterfeit 25-cent pieces in East St. Louis. Other coins and materials and moulds for making them were seized in a raid on a room at 2520 Washington, where Gunion then lived.

Police Capt. W. F. Gilson, of Memphis, investigating the murder there, Nov. 21, of John Levy, wealthy gambler and cafe owner, traced "Mrs. Gunion" to St. Louis.

In a signed statement to Capt. Gilson, the woman related that she was living with Gunion in Memphis and overheard Gunion and another man planning a hold-up. On the night of the Levy murder, the statement continues, Gunion returned home late and said a holdup he attempted had failed and he had to shoot a man. The next morning, according to the confession, Gunion read that Levy had died, and remarked Levy was the man he had shot.

It was Levy's practice to carry money ranging from $500 to $5000, and this probably was known by the holdup men. On the day he was killed he started out with $500 and lost $700 by wagering on a football game. Police surmise that when Levy was held up by three men as he drove his automobile into his garage, he reached into a pocket for the $100, but one of the robbers shot him, thinking Levy was reaching for a weapon.

"Mrs. Gunion" said her husband had her throw his revolver into the Mississippi River. He came to St. Louis Thanksgiving Day, and she followed a week later.

Capt. Gilson said he learned "Mrs. Gunion" had a sister living at Lees Summit, Mo. By watching the sister's mail, he came upon a letter mailed by "Betty Gunion" from the Washington boulevard address. She is held as an accessory to the murder.

"OH, BOY, I'M TIRED," SAYS BILLY SUNDAY

Evangelist Then Splashes Water on Head and Greets Trail - Hitters.

Both of Billy Sunday's meetings at the Coliseum yesterday set records for the seven-week revival. So many men grasped Sunday's hand in pledge of faith at the afternoon services that he had to call a doctor. The evening assemblage, about 8000, was judged slightly the largest so far.

"Oh, boy, I'm tired," the evangelist muttered as he wound up his vigorous evening exhortation. "What Shall the End Be?" He hauled out a water bottle, splashed cold water over his hands and face, took a drink and started in on his invitation.

Before he finished, however, he had to stop again. "Ma, I'm sick," he said to Mrs. Sunday, but in a moment took his place below the platform to welcome converts.

Sunday spoke at an afternoon gathering of more than 2000 women in Moolah Temple, while about 5000 men were listening to Sunday at the Coliseum. Hundreds of men hit the trail. The secretaries were swamped, and many converts failed to receive cards to sign.

"Best meeting I ever saw," Sunday said over and over as he submitted his bruised hand to fervent masculine grips. A few nights ago he drove it through the bottom of his platform chair. Last night it was bandaged, and after shaking hands with several hundred more, he had a doctor dress it again.

Those who received cards at the "men only" meeting totaled 254, considerably the largest number so far. Of that number 98 were re-consecrations, 107 apparently were converts and 19 failed to specify. Two Christian Scientists and 11 Catholics were among the converts and 19 were non-residents.

Sunday passed up a wide-open opportunity to lay on the hell-fire in his text, "What Shall the End Be of Them That Obey Not the Gospel of God?" First Peter, IV, 17. Instead he held out the promise of eternal life "to them that accept God."

Good Sense to Be Ready.

"It's pretty good sense to be ready for the 'may be,'" was his reply to the attitude that there "may be" a hell. "Every building is required to put on a fire escape. Why? Is it expected to burn? It may burn."

It didn't particularly matter, he argued, whether hell was literally hot. "I'm not going to be fool enough to live a life of rebellion," he said, "and go to hell to find out if the 'fire' is literal or not."

A Cape Girardeau delegation has chartered a special train to come to tomorrow's services. A men's meeting is to be held from 12:10 p. m. to 12:50 p. m. tomorrow at Downtown Y. M. C. A. B. S. services at 10 p. m. Thursday night, and the sermon Saturday night are to be broadcast by KWK. Wednesday night Sunday is to deliver one of his most noted sermons, "The Second Coming of Christ," and next Sunday afternoon he will preach, at a third service for men only, on "Crooks, Corkscrews and Bootleggers—They Shall Not Pass."

SYNDICATE OF NEGROES BUYS 38-ACRE TRACT IN KIRKWOOD

Not Will Be Subdivided for Brick Residences and Group of Racial Institutions.

Thirty-eight acres of ground in the east end of Kirkwood have been acquired by a syndicate of Negroes for subdivision for brick residences for Negroes and a group of proposed racial institutions. Announcement of the purchase was made by Fred J. Gould, a real estate dealer at 5922 Delmar boulevard, who sold the land on his own account.

The tract is bounded on the east by Holmes avenue, eastern limit of Kirkwood, and on the north by the Missouri Pacific main line, and extends on the south within a block of Big Bear road and on the west to the west of the Carondelet branch railroad. Sale price is understood to have been about $3000 an acre. Additional neighboring land may be obtained.

Gould said he was not at liberty yet to disclose membership of the syndicate, except that three St. Louisians and persons from Jefferson City, Kansas City, Little Rock, Ark., and Nashville, Tenn., belong to it. They plan to capitalize for about $500,000, he declared, and hope to arrange for construction in the subdivision of a women's college, a hospital, an old folks' home, a grade school, and recreation grounds, all for Negroes.

WOMAN PHYSICIAN GETS HER SECOND DIVORCE

Dr. Mathilda Tibe Twice Had Married City Fireman; Decree Obtained on Ground of Indigities. For the second time, Dr. Mathilda Tibe, middle-aged physician of 7601 Michigan avenue, was divorced from Rudolph J. Tibe, a city fireman. The decree was granted by Circuit Judge Hall in the Court of Domestic Relations. Tibe did not appear. Dr. Tibe alleged general indigities. She said that Tibe, at a time when she was convalescing from an illness which had brought her near death, complained that she "almost died then and didn't have a cent of insurance."

They were married in 1929. After 20 years of married life, Dr. Tibe obtained a divorce in 1919. Reconciliation followed quickly and they remarried Aug. 1 the same year. After more than eight years of the second marriage, the second divorce was obtained.

"Notre Dame's New Grid Captain Owns Five Million Dollars." In other words he is the possessor of five million gridiron men.

It is easier for a rich man's son to go through the eye of a needle than to go through a flock of football tackles for a touchdown.

However, the gridiron is great leveler. A millionaire is just as good as anybody as long as he can make yardage.

Never condemn a young man for having money. Chances are he'll outlive it.

The Cards will open the season with the Pirates on April 11 in St. Louis and then go to Pittsburgh to open the season there. Indicating that there is a demand for the Cards for openers.

Ouch! See where the 1928 season passes in the National League are to be cut 50 per cent. This is a serious matter and will be duly discussed at the next regular meeting of the Gate Crashers' Union.

However, those who fail to get their annual ducat can buy one of those Sunday street car passes for a quarter and ride around all day.

We trust that when the wedding out starts the sidewalk inspector's brother-in-law will be taken care of.

ever, was ruled as dead at the point where dropped. The changes represent a compromise between the rules committee and college coaches who had recommended that the lateral pass and recovery of a fumbled punt be legislated back to the status of 1924. Clarification to remove confusion was decided upon as the compromise.

The screen pass legislation is aimed at doing away with unfair checking and blocking of the defense by players on the passing side who are not even eligible to receive the pass.

Hall again was chosen chairman of the committee and Lanford, secretary. A committee consisting of Hall, Lanford and Walter Okeson of Lehigh, was appointed to make minor changes in the phrasing and structure of other parts of the football code, wherever necessary.

New Athletic Director

HARRY REGET.

REGET NAMED ATHLETIC HEAD AT ST. LOUIS U.

"Temporary" Appointment Announced by Athletic Board—Head Football Coach Not Yet Selected.

Harry Reget, executive officer under the regime of Robert L. Mathews, has been named athletic director at St. Louis University, it was announced today by the athletic board. Vernon "Skip" Stivers will continue in his capacity of assistant director of athletics, while role he has filled under Mathews and since the resignation of his chief.

The status of Harvey Brown, line coach under Mathews, was not determined at the board meeting last Saturday night. It has been rumored that Brown may be appointed head football coach.

There is a strong possibility that Reget's appointment may become a permanent one.

He is a native of Lacrosse, Wis. After attending the Wisconsin State Teachers' College he transferred to Idaho University, where he played football under R. L. Mathews for two seasons. He succeeded "Skip" Stivers as quarterback for the football team of the position in 1925. When Mathews accepted the directorship of athletics here he brought both Reget and Stivers with him.

Wiggins and Pivac Meet Tonight in First Local Battle Under State Law

Indianapolis Heavyweight Has Been Knocked Out Only Once in 280 Bouts—Four Other Contests Are on Fred Stockham Post Card.

By Damon Kerby.

Professional boxing under the new State law will be ushered into St. Louis for the first time tonight, in a program at the New Coliseum which will bring together Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis and Tom Pivac of St. Louis in a heavyweight bout scheduled for 10 rounds as the main event. The card is under the auspices of the Fred W. Stockham post of the American Legion.

Another 10-round bout, between Arthur "Sailor" Maley of California and Jimmy Mahoney of Chicago, light heavyweights, and three 6-round events make up the remainder of the program.

Wiggins will be making his first appearance in a local ring. He is easily the outstanding attraction, as he is bubbling over with what is known in the athletic world as color. Although not yet 30 years old, he has engaged in 230 battles, having started his ring career when only 17 years of age.

These bouts have taken him to every corner of the United States, and to Australia, where he annexed the middle-weight, light-heavyweight and heavyweight titles before he had reached 21. Wiggins' record includes fights with most of the top-notchers in the game, including Champion Gene Tunney, Battling Levinsky, when he was light heavy champion; George Godfrey, the late Tiger Flowers and Harry Greb, Johnny Risko, and Young Stribling. He was knocked out only once, the lone knock coming at the hands of Tommy Gibbons.

Relies on Rushing Style.

Wiggins depends on an aggressive, rushing style for success, having a somewhat similar method as that used by the late Greb, the old Pittsburgh Windmill. This method is popular with the fans, and explains why Wiggins is in such demand in every section of the country. The cash customers usually get plenty of action when he is on the card.

Pivac, his opponent, pits his faith in victory on a punch. His fight has been well-founded. He has taken part in 144 bouts, and has ended in knockouts of his opponents. He expects to be at his best, as a victory over Wiggins would immediately bring him to the attention of promoters throughout the country, and the attention of promoters means frequent appearances and good-sized purses.

The bout between "Red" Rolands and Morris Greenberg promises to be filled with action. Both are graduates of the local amateur colony and have built up followings by their favorable exhibitions since turning pro. Rolands has

JOPLIN PRO SCORES A 34 IN TEXAS OPEN

Horton Smith Makes Turn in Two Under Par to Lead Early Field of Today's Round.

By the Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 6.—Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., professional, led the early field in today's round of the Texas open golf tournament, making the turn in 34, two under par.

Most of the scores were high today and Smith appeared to have a chance to pull up near the leaders. Ed Dudley of Hollywood, Cal., whose 72 yesterday put him out in front, did not start until late today.

Smith had a 77 yesterday. Tournament officials announced that in case of more unfavorable weather, which caused a postponement of the first round from Friday, play would be limited to 40 holes. The original plan called for 36 holes elimination golf, with the low 62 scorers entered in a 36-hole championship flight.

Entries From 100 Boxers Expected

Blanks Are Sent Out for Western District Title Tourney on March 8.

Officials of the Western A. A. U. district are anticipating more than 100 entries for the annual senior boxing championships to be held at the New Coliseum arena on the night of March 8, according to Secretary Robert L. Probst, who stated last night that he has sent 1000 entry blanks to the coaches of colleges, high schools and various athletic clubs throughout Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Southern Illinois, the territory embraced by the district organization.

The fact that the coming district meet will be held in conjunction with the Olympic sectional tryouts is stimulating unusual interest on the part of college and prep school boxers outside the St. Louis area, according to Probst, because of the fact that the winners of championship honors in the various weight divisions will qualify for the team to be sent to the national Olympic tryouts in Boston, April 23 and 24.

Probst also reports unusually keen interest in this year's district championship field and track meet to be held at the New Coliseum, March 31, and information he has received from the athletic directors of numerous schools indicate that the field and track stars of approximately 20 high schools and six colleges are preparing to compete.

Lacrosse Bowler Rolls 300 Game in Wisconsin Event

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 7.—Two records were broken at the twenty-sixth annual Wisconsin State bowling tournament yesterday. William Wengel of La Crosse rolled the first perfect game in the tournament's history, and Pete Clausen of Neenah chalked up 300 in the all-events.

Clausen's record-breaking score gave him the lead in the all-events. The old State record for that event was 1974, made by H. Koch of Milwaukee in 1926. Clausen's best game for the high score was in the singles in which he rolled for a 734 total.

By the Associated Press.

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 6.—The Kremo five of Chicago, rolling in the last squad at the fourteenth annual Interstate Bowling Tournament last night, won the 1928 championship in the five-man event with a score of 3239, a new interstate record.

All other teams had completed their games and were leaving the alleys when the Chicago platoon came through in their last game to win the title. The Boyle Valves, also of Chicago, had been leading in the event with 3164. Hammond, Ind., won the event last year with 3025.

Another record was established by another Kremo entry, the doubles team of W. Freitag and Harry Kaad of Chicago. The men totaled 1409, which put them in first place in the event.

Their individual scores were: Freitag, 224, 232, 234—690; Kaad, 257, 246, 216—719.

Charley Grimm, St. Louis boy, who says first base for the Chicago Cubs during the baseball season, has signed his contract for 1928 and will depart to join the Bruins at Catalina Island, Cal., a week from today.

This gets mighty close to pipe-smoke perfection!

THAT'S no mere claim! Granger is made of the finest tobacco there is for pipe-smoking—good old Kentucky Burley.

There's something about tobacco grown in the Blue Grass country—you can't match it anywhere else. A full, rich flavor; a mild mellowness that you don't find in other tobacco.

And great Gideon! How that flavor does float out from a long, cool pipeful of Granger Rough Cut!

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 6.—Driving along toward its first Missouri Valley basketball championship without a hint of weakening, the University of Oklahoma team last week met and weathered the stiffest test of the season by defeating Missouri and Washington away from home.

Having demonstrated its tremendous scoring power against every valley team save Nebraska, which is near the bottom of the pile, sport followers virtually are ready to concede the Sooners the championship. Oklahoma has won 10 straight games in the conference, piling up an average of 41 points to the game, while the opponents were getting a scant 23 points per game.

Tigers Retain Second Place.
Missouri retained second place with six victories in eight starts, but the Oklahoma Aggies are crowding the Tigers at the end of a successful road trip, during which they downed Kansas Aggies and Nebraska. The Oklahoma Aggies have won seven times in 10 games. Completion of the hard road trips does not give the Oklahoma team a breathing spell this week, for the two Missouri members go to Oklahoma for exchange of games. Winning away from home, however, Oklahoma expects to take Missouri and Washington into camp at home this week-end.

Wright Climbs Among Scorers.
Waging a brilliant fight to get back into individual basketball scoring leadership, Ab Wright, Oklahoma Aggies' star, last week out two points from the lead held by Victor Holt, ranking scorer of the Oklahoma University team. Holt retains the individual honors with 121 points, having added 18 points during the week in two games. Wright picked up 29 points in two games last week and now has 116 points on his string.

The two Oklahoma stars are far in the lead of the pack, although Lande of Iowa State had a good week, climbing from ninth to third place with 97 points. He is tied there with Drake of Oklahoma.

The 12 leading scorers follow:

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Dr. Otto Peltzer, German track star, came back from New York today to begin intensive training for the Illinois Athletic Club games Friday night.

Two rivals, Ray Dodge and Lloyd Hahn, were to prepare on the same track. The games Friday will be run on a dirt track, said to be more popular than the board tracks with most entries.

Additional competition for Dr. Peltzer was seen in the entries of Ray Conger and Jack Sittig.

Four crack college relay teams—Ames, Notre Dame, University of Michigan and the University of Iowa—are outstanding features of the meet. Laddie Myers, twice a member of the United States Olympic team, and Drogemuller of Northwestern University, Big Ten star, are entered in the pole vault events.

Harold Osborn, holder of the world's record of 6 feet 3 1/4 inches, and Anton Bura, a probable Olympic entrant, are among the high jumpers to compete.

Pro Golfers Are Hit by New Rule

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—PROFESSIONAL golfers are going to lose some side money as the result of two rules adopted by the golf ball industry and approved by the Federal Trade Commission.

The rules, announced by the commission yesterday, prohibit the paying secretly of yearly salaries to professional golf players in order to have them play the golf ball of a particular manufacturer, and of special prize money to those who win matches with a certain ball.

Roosevelt Five Has a New Star In Forward Kahn

Leading Rough Riders Play Beaumont in High School League This Week.

Public high school basketball teams will enter the second half of the league schedule this week with Roosevelt a stronger favorite than ever to repeat last year's title victory by virtue of Saturday's convincing 39-18 defeat of Soldan.

Roosevelt is matched with Beaumont this week, a team that furnished its most difficult opposition of the first round. Soldan, now in second place with three victories and one defeat, draws an easier opponent in Cleveland. Central, with four defeats, will be idle.

Barring a reversal of form, Roosevelt appears headed for its second straight championship. Despite the loss of two valuable players, Coach Lorenzen's team is at present much stronger than any of its rivals. The quality of its reserve material was indicated when Russell Moffatt was lost through ineligibility and his position ably filled by Bailey, who starred in the victory over Central. The loss of Bailey before the Soldan game because of an illness resulted in the discovery of a new star in Charlie Kahn who played a good game at the forward position, scoring 19 points.

This week's games are likely to result in the virtual elimination of Cleveland and Beaumont as title contenders.

MOSTIL SURE HE WILL SUCCEED IN COMEBACK TRIAL

White Sox Outfielder Playing Basketball, Handball and Bowling in Effort to Get Into Condition.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Johnny Mostil, White Sox hero of the 1926 season, attempting a comeback after being out of the game last season, has presented the problem of too much rather than too little talent for the Sox outfield.

The Whiting, Ind., star, who has been training hard since his recovery from a suicide attempt during last year's training season, has been pronounced in better condition than ever before. He was confident that he would be able to make the grade, an opinion apparently shared by Manager Ray Schalk.

MISS ADA MACKENZIE ENTERS GOLF TOURNEY

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 6.—Miss Ada Mackenzie, twice holder of the Canadian women's golf championship, today telegraphed her entry from Bermuda for the Florida East Coast title tournament.

Miss Mackenzie won the qualifying medal in the American national championship last fall. The Misses Glenna Collett, Virginia Van Wie and Maureen Orcutt, national finalist of 1927, have won the East Coast crown the last three seasons.

Alex Metzler also was sure to play. If Mostil can show his old form he will return to center and Metzler to right. Otherwise Metzler will take Mostil's position and Barrett, Reynolds and Moore will fight it out for right field.

Mostil's friends pointed out that he is only 20 years old and of the type that reaches his best physical form at that age. His training has been arduous. When not on hunting and camping trips, Johnny has spent his time on the bowling alleys, the basketball court and the handball court. He plays handball equally well with either hand.

It also has been pointed out that he has taken a new outlook on life since his brief reappearance in a Sox uniform at the close of last season, which had a stimulating mental effect upon him.

Nurmi May Run In Marathon at Olympic Games

Amsterdam Meet Will Be Third for Great Distance Runner of Finland.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The latest tip on Finland's Olympic preparations is that the famous phantom, Paavo Nurmi, may pass up the shorter distances and run the marathon at Amsterdam.

This will be Paavo's third Olympiad and possibly his last. He is represented as being anxious to cap his career by leading the pack over the long grind, adding his name to those of his countrymen, Kohonen and Stenroos, previous winners of the classic.

On the other hand Paavo seems a bit young to take up the marathon. He is only about 22 and most Finns don't go in for the longer routes until they are around 40. The older they are the longer they run.

Moreover, Nurmi has a score or two to settle with Peltzer and Wide, who beat him in Berlin last summer. To do so he will be obliged to meet them at 1500 or 5000 meters, at both of which distances the Finn holds the Olympic record.

NORTHWESTERN STARS TAKES SECOND PLACE AMONG BIG 10 SCORERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The free throw tosser of the Big Ten Russell Walters, star Northwestern center, scored 14 points in the Northwestern-Minnesota game last week, to move into second place in the race for individual honors in the conference.

Walters displaced Bud Wisconsin center, whose leadership to third place, McCracken, Indiana, retained an edge of 10 points in free throws. McCracken scored 23 goals and 11 free throws for a total of 57 points. He has scored 16 field goals and free throws for a 41-point total. Fisher's total is 43 field goals and 11 free throws. Bennis, Chicago, Michigan's flashy half, scored, gained three laps in the individual scoring and today was fourth place.

Earning Money Out of Waste Samuel Crowther in the Country Gentleman says, "A corporation has no mystic powers. The greatest corporate economies are in the direction of earning money out of what is now waste." The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) agrees with Mr. Crowther's deduction. This Company believes that by utilizing material which otherwise would be waste and converting it into usable products, it is performing a service of signal value to society. One of the greatest corporate economies of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been its ability to earn money out of waste. Through the years this Company has been striving to get out of the natural resource, petroleum, all of its potential usefulness to man. In addition to gasoline and oil, hundreds of by-products have been developed to meet hundreds of various needs. This has meant keeping closely in touch with the changing needs of man—anticipating new requirements—keeping a finger on the pulse of progress. It has meant constant, never-ending scientific work. Did you ever stop to think where the oil for a sewing machine comes from? How asphalt is made? What's in the polish you use to brighten the finish of your car? These products were not found in the earth as they are. They did not happen! Whose ideas were they? You will never know! Patient men of science worked them out in the quiet of unknown laboratories, experimenting, making thousands and thousands of tests. The petroleum products that you use today are the achievements of years of effort. The reason they give such satisfaction is because they were slowly, gradually, carefully perfected to give the results desired. The development of by-products from petroleum has helped to keep the cost of production of major products at a minimum—and has earned money out of waste. Adequate capital, adequately equipped scientific laboratories—the time and effort of a staff of men scientifically trained and endowed with special abilities—have made it possible for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to earn money out of waste—and to pass on the benefits to all the people of the Middle West. There is nothing mystic about the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) or its powers. It is simply a group of hard working people earning money, earning respect, earning friendship by "delivering the goods". Its powers are the powers of earnest effort and sincere purpose. Standard Oil Company (Indiana) General Office: Standard Oil Building 910 So. Michigan Avenue, Chicago 4791

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The stock market saw a burst of renewed buying in the last few minutes of trading which gave the list an appearance of strength at the close. Net advances of 1 to 5 points were freely sprinkled through many groups. Buying started with considerable force shortly after the opening, based on confidence in the business outlook, which was given impetus by a cheerful observation by Secretary Hoover. Later in the day, however, banks called about $25,000,000 in loans to remedy a weakened reserve position, and call money was marked up from 4 1/4 to 4 1/2 per cent.

This tightening of money, along with news of a raise to 4 per cent in the Minneapolis Federal Reserve discount rate and the failure of the railroads to respond to strength in other sections, led to considerable profit taking, and some of the early gains were materially cut down. Bear selling developed in some issues, and pool operations, which had shown early expansion were restricted.

Steel Shares Strong.

Heavy buying orders for the express issues, Montgomery Ward and others in the last few minutes influenced a brisk recovery and even the sluggish railroad stocks made up part of their earlier losses.

Steel shares, led by Vanadium, a consistent ground gainer for several days, were consistently strong throughout the session. Vanadium added five points net to its recent close and Bethlehem, Republic Steel, and others followed. Vanadium closed at 110 1/2, a new high record. This stock last year sold as low as 74, and in 1926 the price was quoted below par.

American Express also moved upward rapidly, with a net advance of nine and one-quarter, and American Railways Express gained three and three-quarters.

Automotive issues were in demand, General Motors moving up a point, and Allys Chalmers reaching a new peak at 122. New highs also were attained by Cudahy Packing and American Lined.

Losses Among Rails.

Erle, Delaware & Hudson, Wash. and Atchison all closed with net losses of a point or more, having rallied briskly from their minimum prices of the day. Realizing in Greene Canoea copper contrasted with strength in other stocks of this group, particularly Nevada Consolidated, which touched 2 1/2 on huge transactions.

A few of the utilities moved to higher ground, but rubber and other shares included in the group stiffening prices in cotton futures. The commodity markets, quotations rising 40 to 44 points, other commodities showed little change.

Foreign exchanges were steady, sterling cables ruling unchanged around $4.87 3/32 and French francs just above 29 1/2 cents. Norwegian and Spanish currencies were slightly higher and Japanese yet a fraction lower.

Time money and commercial paper rates showed no change, but bankers' acceptances were a shade easier.

LARGEST OPERATION SINCE WAR IN COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Prices of oilseed oil touched their lowest level since the war today, as a result of a large sale of 20,000 barrels of cottonseed oil by the American Oil Company, which was reported to have been made at a price of 20 to 20 1/2 cents a barrel, a decline of 2 to 2 1/2 cents a barrel from 9 1/2 to 11 1/2 cents.

F. & W. Grand Stores Acquire Other Concern.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Acquisition by F. & W. Grand, 10, 25 cent store, of the Federal Stores Corporation, a chain of 50 stores in New York, announced today, Morris Fisher, president of F. & W. Grand, said the acquisition was a "very important step" in the company's expansion program. The Federal Stores Corporation, which was founded in 1925, has a net worth of $1,000,000. Fisher said the acquisition would result in a new chain of 60 stores in New York, with a net worth of $1,000,000.

McCreary Stores on 82 Basis.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Common and class B shares of McCreary Stores Corporation, 82 cents a share, were sold on a dividend basis of 82 cents a share, with a net result of 82 cents a share. The sale was made by the company's board of directors, which was composed of 10 members. The sale was made at a price of 82 cents a share, which was the same as the price of the shares when they were first sold.

Minneapolis Reserve Raises Rate.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 6.—The Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis today announced that it had raised its discount rate from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent. The bank said the increase was made "in view of the recent rise in the price of cottonseed oil and the fact that the rate of 4 1/2 per cent was no longer adequate to maintain the desired reserve position."

SHARES SOLD

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Total sales, 2,124,000 shares, compared with 1,616,000 shares on Jan. 31 to date 67,171,000 shares, compared with 44,712,000 a year ago.

A ST. LOUIS INSTITUTION

MOLINARI IN LAST CONCERT AT ODEON

Guest Conductor Given an Ovation in Final Appearance With the Symphony.

By THOMAS B. SHERMAN.

A large audience sent Bernardino Molinari on his way with cheers and flowers at Sunday afternoon's performance of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. It was Mr. Molinari's last appearance as conductor of the orchestra, and he played a fairly characteristic program in what proved to be, with one exception, a characteristic manner.

The exception, to both generalizations, was the "Prelude and Love Death," from Wagner's Tristan and Isolde. This, of course, is music above most of the third-rate stuff with which Mr. Molinari has filled his programs and he played it with an unwonted deliberation. His tempo was slow enough to allow one to examine the structure of the piece minutely, and as if in acknowledgement of this fact, his phrases were exactly wrought and his dynamics kept carefully to scale. It was the sort of reading that might be called scholarly with a fair show of truth.

Mr. Molinari saved his sunbursts for the closing number. This was the overture to the "Sicilian Vespers." The passion that one could not resist longing for in the Tristan was fully in evidence here. It was after he had hurled these many furious fortissimos against the nerve ends of his audience that the feet began to stamp, several ladies rose in their seats and waved their hands and an excited equerry ran down the aisle with an armful of red roses. The audience forced Mr. Molinari to return and bow many times.

The soloist of the occasion was Grace Leslie, a contralto, who sang "Ah Mon Fis" from Meyerbeer's "Prophete" and "Adieu Forets," from Tchaikovsky's "Jeanne d'Arc."

The next Symphony concert takes place Friday, Feb. 17, when Carl Schuricht makes his debut as the fifth guest conductor of the season.

MOVIE BEST BIT AT ST. LOUIS

The outstanding entertainment feature of this week's show at the St. Louis Theater is the motion picture, "The Leopard Lady," with Jacqueline Logan. And, curiously enough, the best of the vaudeville is the act of William Brack and company, introducing truly phenomenal foot juggling by three men and two boys. Nine times in 10 acrobats of any kind are anathema, but these are worth watching.

The vaudeville also includes

Claude and Marion, a mild little man and his buxom and anything but mild wife; "Dear Little Rebel," a musical comedy bit, with Nancy Gibbs and a male chorus; Pat Henning, who sings, dances, wisecracks and plays saxophone and mandolin; and "A Chameleon Revue," a conventional jazz band dance offering with some unusual lighting effects. "The Leopard Lady" is a continental circus picture of romance and mystery, the mystery centering on a series of ghastly murders and robberies committed by "a little old lady," who, the lovely Jacqueline discovers, is—but that would be telling. See for yourself. It is grim, gruesome and exciting.

Sayings of Mrs. Solomor

By Helen Rowland

THE KIND OF WOMEN MEN HATE.

VERILY, my daughter, there be Seven Types of Good Women, that every man hateth with all his heart.

For, lo, a woman may be a burglar, a gold-digger, a snob or a murderess, and men be unable to resist her charm or to cease from loving her.

And, peradventure, she may be an angel at heart and a vision of beauty, yet every man will flee at sight of her, crying "Help, help!"

Go to. What man doth not take heels at the approach of the Marathon Talker? What man doth not dodge the Babbling Brook, who taketh the words out of his mouth, and holdeth the floor, without stopping for breath?

For a dumb-bell may not be stimulating; but a Perpetual CONVERSATIONIST is a deadly thing! She shattereth the nerves!

What man doth not seek to escape from the Sensitive Soul, who taketh offense without reason and bursteth into tears without provocation? Alas, she is as a sore finger which is always being "hurt"! She is more depressing than rain upon Christmas day.

What man doth not flee from the presence of the Nagger who tormenteth him with admonitions and repetitions? She is as a winnow that rattlenth throughout the night, a riveting machine that shattereth the ears by day.

What man will abide along in the company of the Little Reformer, who sheweth him the folly of all his ways? Who yearneth to "up-lift" him, and to rob him of all his pet weaknesses? Go to. For a little while, he may account her a blessing; but in time, she becometh a dispensation.

What man doth not take to flight, at sight of the Adhesive Plaster who cluteth and clingeth and cannot be shaken off? Who smothereth him with attentions and flattery and coddlings and pursueth him with telephone calls?

Verily, she is as a second order of plum pudding after a full meal. She chokeeth and sickneth him.

What man can endure the Female Dictator? The Iron-willed Woman, who seeketh to order all his ways and to prescribe all his judgments? Who electeth herself the guardian of his diet, the censor of his clothes, the ruler of his house, and the master of his fate? For no man delighteth to be a comic-cartoon husband!

Lastly, my daughter, WHAT man doth not flee in terror from a Man-Chaser, who painteth her face as with house-paint, and hunteth boldly with the blowing of horns and the beating of drums? She affrighteth the game!

Then, I charge thee, for thy soul's good, my daughter, be not one of the Seven Deadly Women, whom all men hate!

Children's Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

IDLE GOSSIP

Mischief grins and slyly winks, While gossip tells more than it thinks.

—Old Mother Nature.

REDDY FOX was anxious to know how often and just when Jerry Muskrat visited the Laughing Brook leaves the Green Forest to enter the Smiling Pool. But Reddy didn't want to be seen over there. He didn't want Jerry to become suspicious. He knew that if Jerry suspected him of hanging around that open spring-hole Jerry would at once change his ways. He would not knowingly take a chance of being caught.

"I'll do a little gossiping," thought Reddy. "One can find out almost anything through gossip. Yes, sir, a gossip is usually a tell-tale without knowing it. Now I wonder who there is that is likely to be around that spring-hole more or less. Of course, Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow probably could tell me just what I want to know. But neither would knowingly. Those fellows always delight in making trouble for me instead of helping me. I guess I'll have to get it out of one of them without his knowing what I'm after."

Now, Reddy long ago learned that the surest way of attracting attention is to do something unusual. Arouse curiosity and you will have all the attention you desire. So it was that when Reddy heard the rather harsh voice of Sammy Jay not far away, Reddy sat in an open place and began to chase his tail. Around and around he spun, shaking his tail. It wasn't any time at all before Sammy Jay was sitting in a tree right above Reddy, so interested that he actually had forgotten to scream. Presently Reddy stopped for breath.

"What under the sun are you doing, Reddy Fox?" demanded Sammy Jay.

Reddy looked up and grinned. "Getting a little exercise," said he. "I find that exercise is the best thing in the world for digestion."

"Huh!" exclaimed Sammy. "I should think you would get all the exercise you need in just running around."

"I do get a lot of exercise that way," replied Reddy. "But there are times when I have to lie still so long that I need some lively exercise, and so I get it by chasing my tail. It is rather fun, you know."

"No, I don't know," replied Sammy. "I have never chased my tail."

Reddy chuckled good naturedly. "That would be a rather difficult thing to do, Brother Jay," said he. "What a lot of different tails there are in the world. Now your tail is of feathers, my tail is big and bushy, the tail of Jerry Muskrat is flattened on the sides and rubbery. By the way, I wonder how Jerry is getting on this winter. I haven't seen him since the ice came. I should think it would be terrible to be frozen in all winter long. I should think he would want to get out and get a breath of fresh air once in a while."

"Oh," said Sammy, "you needn't worry about Jerry."

"Oh," said Sammy, "you needn't worry about Jerry. He gets all the fresh air he needs. Why, I see him every day."

"Quit your fooling, Brother Jay! Quit your fooling!" said Reddy. "You can't see down through the ice when it's covered with snow."

"I didn't say I did see down through the ice, did I?" retorted Sammy. "All I said was that I see Jerry Muskrat every day, and I don't have to look down through the ice to see him."

Reddy's face bore a puzzled expression. "I don't understand, Brother Jay," said he. "No, sir, I don't understand. If Jerry Muskrat never comes out from under the ice how can you see him every day?"

"You know that spring-hole down in the swamp?" asked Sammy.

Reddy nodded.

"Well," continued Sammy, "every morning just after sunup Jerry Muskrat comes out of that and sits on the bank."

Soak a cupful of bread crumbs in a cupful of rich milk for 15 minutes. Melt two level tablespoonsful of butter in a saucepan or chafing dish. Add a half cupful of rich dairy cheese shaved in thin slices. When it is melted add the bread crumbs, and when hot add pepper, salt and a beaten egg. Cook for three minutes, stirring slowly. Then turn over toasted bread or crackers.

Printed Patterns, Gayly-Hued, Predominate at Palm Beach

MRS. FREDERICK MITCHELL GOULD.
—BLANKET CAPE—

THE height of the season at Palm Beach presents a vividly colorful scene. Keered to the brilliance of the setting clothes are correspondingly gay and rainbow-hued.

Fashion is in print, for patterns large and small of floral and cubistic designs form the frocks of the majority of women.

The old conundrum, "Black and white and red all over," may be taken literally when colors are spoken of, for black and white furnish a dominating theme in many of the prints, and red is equally favored. In contrast, a number of the "dusty" shades—soft pinks and blues, pastel yellows and greens—are worn.

Speaking of fabrications, a new one has sprung into prominence—kasha tole, a material far lighter than the plain silk blouses. Again, it is introduced in panels on the skirts and oftentimes forms the upper part of the long, close-fitting sleeves used on a number of the jumpers. Strange to relate, the border is seldom used for borders.

RUST color, a shade that Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney used for one of her street ensembles early this spring, is a popular note. In this same category is banana pink.

Jersey and georgette were used for one or two distinctive ensembles seen at the Everglades Tennis Club. The coats of jersey were lined with georgette, which also formed the long sleeves and yokes of the jumpers that were shipped over pleated jersey skirts.

The ensemble idea is stressed for bathing costumes. To be correct, suit, cap, robe, bag and even pillow must match in color or pattern. For those who don't go near the water but sit on the beach, printed silks and cashmeres are developed in charming models, trimmed with tiers and ruffles. Cloaks painted in gay colors are favored and stockings are compulsory on all of the larger beaches. Needless to say, nude is the most popular shade.

Mrs. Frederick Mitchell Gould wears a one-piece jersey suit held in at the waist by a wide belt and knots a large kerchief over her shoulders. Mrs. J. Ledley Hees chooses a flowered silk ensemble for the beach and carries an umbrella that matches the predominant tone of her robe.

For sports, solid colors and not prints hold the center of the stage. Miss Mary Norris selects a two-piece white silk crepe frock, the sole ornamentation consisting of a dark blue silk monogram which trims the blouse. Mrs. Felix Warburg adds interest to her compose frock with a large kerchief of flowered design.

These big squares are usually knotted loosely about the neck and are long enough to touch the hem of the frock they accompany. Mrs. J. J. Wylie strolls along the beach with Mrs. Warburg in a three-piece wool ensemble and shades her eyes with one of the new mushroom hats.

Why Women Buy Ready-to-Wear

CONCLUSIONS of interest to the manufacturers of ready-to-wear garments and those concerned with the sale of textiles by the yard and of sewing materials may be drawn from the reports received from nearly 2000 women in the course of a recent survey of present trends in home sewing, carried on by the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. This survey was planned to obtain more definite information as to what proportion of women are continuing to sew at home and what they make, what difficulties they encounter in connection with the family clothing, and why they buy ready-to-wear.

While it might be thought that the logical reason for a woman's buying ready-made garments was that she did not know how to sew, this factor seems to have the least influence of any on the purchase of ready-to-wear. Except in the lowest income group, this reason was not often given. Almost 70 per cent of those answering the question believed that they obtained better style and design in the ready-to-wear garments than they could produce themselves, and still more, 72 per cent, bought ready-to-wear to save time and energy. A great many women seem unable to visualize the finished garment from a piece of material and a pattern. These buy ready-made because they can see how the garments look.

Picking oneself is frequently considered difficult. Some women are more timid about working with silk and wool than with cotton, because a mistake is more costly, so they make their cotton house dresses but buy their afternoon and street frocks of silk or wool ready-made. The professional tailoring and pressing of ready-to-wear is an important element in their attraction, for the woman sewing at home often thinks she lacks just the touch needed for a tailored finish. In smaller communities the lack of variety in yard goods and trimmings accounts for the purchase of many ready-to-wear. In no sense but who have always employed a seamstress report that good dressmakers can not be found and so they have turned to the ready-to-wear instead.

As the size of the community increases and also as the income increases, a larger percentage buy ready-to-wear because of better style and design and also to save time and energy. Appearance becomes relatively more important in larger communities, and as outside interests and activities increase, there is less opportunity for sewing.

Inflatable rubber bags have been invented for attachment to canoes to make them unsinkable.

IT'S natural to think that the caffeine you take with your meals drives away fatigue—"picks you up." Something does—and isn't caffeine a stimulant?

Yes, but caffeine doesn't work so fast. It's the warmth of the drink that gives you an immediate sense of comfort. The full effect of the caffeine comes later—hours later. Then this drug stimulates whips up your nerves—repels sleep—drives the brain on when every natural impulse may be crying for rest.

Don't be fooled any longer! Change from caffeine to Postum!

You'll get the mealtime "pick up" you want from Postum's genial warmth and restful flavor. But afterward, when you want to rest, you can! ELINOR GLYN TELLS HOW TO WIN A MAN

(Ninth Article)

By Elinor Glyn.

THE TRUTH ABOUT YOUR PRINCIPAL WEAKNESS

A GIRL stood beside me in a shop the other day. She was buying stockings. I could see by the care she took to get good ones at a very reasonable price, that she was not rich. But how charming! She had a quaint turn-up nose and a wide mouth—but her teeth were perfect and her clear, dark skin was flawless. She secured the attention and sympathy of the assistant, detaching her from another customer who was making large purchases. The floorwalker came up and helped her also.

The girl simply had "it." Her voice was low and had a throat in it. Every movement of her head was graceful. Her little figure, in its quite cheap business suit, was alluring. Her face was full of character, self-confidence and indifference to what effect she was producing—but full of force. She made me think and think—can I really teach how to acquire "it"? And here and now I say no, unless the aspirant has naturally a strong will and determination. These things will not automatically bring "it" but are essential to the acquiring of the attributes which will draw it. All those plain, grim-mouthed young women who are stamped with determination, if they deliberately set out to acquire charm, would be much more likely to secure it than any pretty, flirty weakling, or giggling beauty! So now, I think I should devote some space to these girls with will, who have never stopped to think how very unattractive they are physically, or how often they rebel, when their mental attainments should bring them success.

Do realize that if you revolt any of the four senses, leaving out the fifth—taste (since we don't eat one another)—you will completely destroy emotion in the other four! Consequently there will be no chance of demonstrating "it." If you look ugly—you affront "sight." If you have a harsh or shrill voice, you affront "hearing." If you are unclean, you affront "smell." If you have a rough skin, or too many bones showing, or too much fat bulging, you affront "touch." So use common sense—examine yourself and find out in which of these four ways you are losing out—and then determine to conquer. (The next article will be printed Thursday.) (Copyright, 1928.)

Woman Artist Tours Safely Through Tibet

Mlle. LA FUGIE, a French artist, who has arrived in Calcutta after a seven months' tour of Tibet, is warm in her praise of the hospitality of Tibet, which has been the graveyard of hundreds of foreign travelers.

Mlle. La Fugie was accompanied only by an Indian bearer, and traveled at the rate of 20 miles a day for months, quite unmolested. She made many sketches and drawings, despite prejudices of Tibetans against pictures. She even persuaded a nun to sit for her.

WOMEN AND WAR.

HOW many women of today, who lived through the Great War, can refuse a word for peace, wherever and whenever such a word may be uttered, is beyond our understanding. Even if on her, because her own men were too old or too young, she must live forever haunted by the pain and loss and tragedy of her world. Her imagination must hold that vision of soldiers so heart-breaking in their grief, as they were in their latest, fine collection of poems, "Reflections."

Down some field in a world unspoken

The young men are walking together, arm and arm.

And though they laugh to one another, silence is not broken. There is no sound, however clear they call.

They are speaking together of what they loved in vain

But the air is too thin to carry the thing they say.

They were young and golden, but they came on pain here.

And the youth is ago now, their gold is gray.

Yet their hearts are not changed,

And they cry to one another,

"What have they done with the lives we laid aside?"

Are they young with our youth, gold with our gold, my brother?

Do they smile in the face of death, because we died?

Down some cold field in a world unspoken

The young seek each other with questioning eyes.

They question each other, the young, the golden-hearted,

Of a world that they were robbed of in their quiet Paradise.

And, though I ask naught

Of God, I pray Him: "But these were boys,

And died. Be gentle, God, to soldiers."

WOMEN with any sensitivity of perception, with any respect for intelligence, and with the memory of a World War, we think, work together for world peace. Like Martin Luther, here they stand—they cannot otherwise. No one is going to call Ida Tarbell a Communist in disguise, or an impractical sentimentalist. She once gave us for the Evening World, the following admirable summary of what women can do as peacemakers:

"Women have it in their power to end war—if they will. They can put into the human consciousness the belief in peaceful adjustment. And they can do this by practicing it themselves everywhere—in their towns, in their churches, in their clubs, and in their homes. In all these places they can work to show their children and those over whom they have influence the folly of war."

"Women have asked for and obtained the larger rights of citizenship. What better contribution can they make in this field than the faith in peaceful adjustment and the insistence upon machinery for working it out?"

Women, it is generally admitted, talked suffrage across. Now women are talking peace. Shrug your shoulders, if you will. But it's a strange and mighty, and terrible force—women!

JUSTIFICATION.

The wind is crowling in my ears
"I am swift! I live!"

The trees are chanting in the sun
"I am strong! I live!"

The moving clouds and water
"I am fair! I live!"

My body sings with the singing earth.

"I live! I live for you!"

Window Shades Can Be Scrubbed

HOUSEWIVES are now planning the spring renovations for the home. If this includes new window shades you will find it profitable to get these new washable shades. You can scrub them just as you do the floor so you will always have clean shades at your window and as they are guaranteed not to fade or crack they are quite desirable.

There are also new decorative shower curtains that will interest the discriminating woman. These curtains come in exquisite cottons, moires, brocades and plain silks and are a vast improvement on the stiff white, gray or tan curtains that adorn so many of our bathrooms. Of course they are waterproof—they are also guaranteed spotproof. You can get them in sizes to fit all kinds of showers.

Midgets.

Butter and many ramakin dishes are needed. Break two eggs into each. Beat with spoon, a teaspoonful of chopped chives and parsley. Add four tablespoonfuls of milk to each. Cover with a teaspoonful of granulated sugar and a tablespoonful of crumbs. Dot with little lumps of butter and bake a delicious brew. Serve while hot.

First Woman Speaks At Culver Academy

PRECEDENT as old as Culver (Ind.) Military Academy itself was broken when Mrs. Irene McIntyre Walbridge of Paterson, N. H., national president of the American Legion auxiliary, addressed the students of the school for boys.

She was the first woman ever to receive such an invitation. The occasion was the annual memorial services for more than three score Culver men who were killed in the World War.

Mrs. Walbridge was a Salvation Army worker in the war and was under fire 236 days. She was gassed twice and received two citations for bravery.

Famous Toy Shop Quits

THE "Children's Paradise," one of the most famous toy shops in the world, has closed its doors forever, making way for a shoe store. Founded in 1848, during the 80 years of its existence it supplied most of the rulers of Europe. King Alfonso of Spain was one of its best customers, buying all the playthings for his family there.

THE WAY OF A WOMAN

—By—Marguerite Moores Marshall

WOMEN AND WAR.

HOW any woman of today, who lived through the Great War, can refuse a word for peace, however and whenever such a word may be uttered, is beyond our understanding. Even if on her, because her own men were too old to go to war, the war inflicted no personal pang, she was still haunted by the pain and loss and tragedy of her world. Her imagination must hold that vision of soldiers so heart-breakingly exposed by Humbert Wolfe in his latest fine collection of poems, "Requiem."

"Down some field in a world unspoken, The young men are walking together, slim and tall, and though they laugh to one another, silence is not broken; There is no sound, however clear they call."

They are speaking together of what they loved in vain here. But the air is too thin to carry the thing they say. They were young and golden, but they came on pain here, and their youth is age now, their gold is gray.

Let their hearts be not changed, and they cry to one another. What have they done with the lives we laid aside? Are they young with our youth, gold with our gold, my brother? Do they smile in the face of death, because we died?

Down some cold field in a world uncharted, The young seek each other with questioning eyes. The young, the golden-hearted, Of the world that they were robbed of in their quiet Paradise.

And, though I ask naught else, Of God, I pray to Him: "But these were boys, And died. Be gentle, God, to soldiers."

WOMEN with any sensitive sense of perception, with any respect for intelligence, and with the memory of a World War, must, we think, work together for peace. Like Martin Luther, here stands—this cannot be over-ruled. No one is going to call Ida Tarbell a Communist in disguise, or an impractical sentimentalist. She once gave us, for the Evening World, the following admirable summary of what women can do as peacemakers:

"Women have it in their power to end war—if they will. They can put into the human consciousness the belief in peaceful adjustment. And they can do this by practicing it themselves everywhere—in their towns, in their churches, in their clubs, and in their homes. In all these places they can work to show their children and those over whom they have influence the folly of wars."

Women, it is generally admitted, talked outrage across. Now women are talking peace. Shrug your shoulders, if you will. But it's a strange and mighty and terrible force—women's talk!

JUSTIFICATION. The wind is crooning in my ears "I am swift! I live!" The trees are chanting in the sun "I am strong! I live!" The moving clouds and water about "I am fair! I live!"

My body sings with the singing earth. "I live for you!" ALINE BORN BIKER. (Copyright, 1928.)

Window Shades Can Be Scrubbed

HOUSEWIVES are now planning the spring renovations for the home. If this includes new window shades you will find it profitable to get these new washable shades. You can scrub them just as you do the floor so you will always have clean shades and they are guaranteed to fade or crack they are quite desirable.

There are also new decorative shower curtains that will interest the discriminating woman, for curtains come in exquisite cretonnes, moirés, and broadens and plain silks and are a vast improvement on the stiff white, gray or tan curtains that adorn so many of our bathrooms. Of course they are waterproof—they are also guaranteed sprout-proof. You can get them in sizes to fit all kinds of showers.

Midgets. Butter as many ramekin dishes as are needed. Break two fresh eggs into each. Dust with pepper, salt, a teaspoonful of chopped olives and parsley. Add four tablespoons of milk to each, then cover with a teaspoonful of grated cheese mixed with a tablespoonful of crumbs. Dot with little lumps of butter and bake a delicate brown. Serve while hot.

BRUNETTES ARE MORE STIRRED BY SENTIMENT THAN BLONDES

This Is Shown by Experiments Conducted by Dr. William H. Marston of the Department of Psychology of Columbia University.

By George Buchanan Fife.

IT is settled now—or is it? Science says that brunettes respond much more to the suggestion of love and love making than do blondes.

Does that prove it? In other words, can science now declare with finality that gentlemen prefer blondes? And if not, why?

As a matter of fact, experiments conducted by Dr. William H. Marston of the department of psychology of Columbia University indicate that brunettes respond far more quickly to love scenes—as the motion picture screen portrays them—than do blondes.

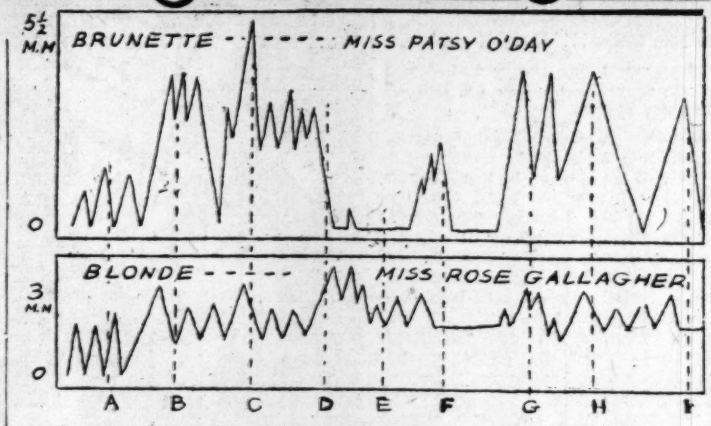

What this indicates, the Columbia professor does not say. His experiments are purely impersonal, because his wife is a brunette, but he is assured, by the aid of devices of his science, that brunettes have it all over the blondes when it comes to registering emotion. Blondes are, really, quite cold—that is, by comparison with the instrumental reaction of brunettes. What the brunettes have to say is a matter of registration upon scientific instruments.

Probably Dr. Marston had no idea of all this before he made his tests; that is, the high key of the brunettes among the feminine of the species. But he learned a great deal about them. And his wife helped him to the knowledge.

Now, starting with the conclusion, which is that brunettes are the more highly responsive among our feminine citizenry, it is well to go back to the experiments which seem to prove it.

Dr. MARSTON was so keen to know about it that he made a meeting of blondes and brunettes—with an unusual accompaniment of newspaper men and photographers at the Embassy Theatre last week. The brunettes—should be the first to subject themselves to the test, because there were a lot of people gathered about, and no end of newspaper men and photographers, and the young women were just ready to leap away for their parts in Broadway shows and they were conspicuously embarrassed. However, the first test was made of Miss Gallagher, the blonde, and Miss O'Day, the brunette. They seemed reluctant, but eventually they were urged up the aisle and took their places in the disconcerting front row of the orchestra.

There the blood pressure thing and the respiration apparatus were fastened upon them. The first

Some of the motion picture stimuli that was used and chart showing the effect upon one girl of each type.

Now he was determined to seek the differentiation in heart beat and respiration of blonde and brunette young women by subjecting a picked group of young ladies to a visual presentation of screen love scenes portrayed by Greta Garbo and John Gilbert. It was believed that these would most obviously affect an audience, including the subjects.

And now we come to the blondes and brunettes selected to undergo the tests. They were chosen by Dr. Marston—and certainly no fault whatever is to be found with his taste at least so far as this writer and the populace gathered in the Embassy were concerned. The blondes were Beryl Halley, Jean Audree, Rose Gallagher and Claudie Dell. The brunette contingent was composed of Jean Ackerman, Flo Kennedy, Patsy O'Day and Peggy Udell. Frankly, it would have been very hard to tell how gentlemen could have a preference.

However, on to the experiments, and by way of explanation, the sphygmometer already referred to was used to register blood pressure, the pneumograph to record frequency and volume of respiration. In short, these were the instruments to determine whether gentlemen should prefer blondes—but only scientifically.

A LOT of time was lost in determining just which pair of young women—a blonde and a brunette—should be the first to subject themselves to the test, because there were a lot of people gathered about, and no end of newspaper men and photographers, and the young women were just ready to leap away for their parts in Broadway shows and they were conspicuously embarrassed. However, the first test was made of Miss Gallagher, the blonde, and Miss O'Day, the brunette. They seemed reluctant, but eventually they were urged up the aisle and took their places in the disconcerting front row of the orchestra.

So, here we have the theater on Broadway, the audience just leaving after the afternoon performance, and the local correspondents and photographers edging their way in through the throng. With us we find Dr. Marston and Mrs. Marston and Miss Olive Byrne, a student at Columbia, an assistant at the experiments, watching over the brunettes-blondes recording instruments. The latter look very cold for such registration, but we'll let that pass for the moment.

It had been announced by Dr. Marston that he intended to conduct experiments to determine the relative emotional reactions of blondes and brunettes. In his announcement he mentioned blondes first, but that was just custom, apparently. It was probably begotten of the well-known Aristotelian theorem that gentlemen prefer blondes. Columbia was there to settle it—if science could.

They Register Higher Blood Pressure and Accelerated Respiration Under Stimulus of Soft Music and Love Scenes on Screen.

things because now Dr. Marston announced that the motion picture love scenes would be put on and the reaction of the ladies taken during them.

It must be said that most of these pictures were of kisses—and the most fervent of kisses. And all the while Jimmy Tynson at the organ was playing, "Darling, the Sunshine of Your Smile," and "The World Doesn't Matter," and "The Melody of Love." It was all very sweet and all that; in fact, almost suffocating. But that was what the doctor ordered.

Dr. Marston was busy making memoranda, watching pulses, heart beats, revolving cylinders and reactions. And, after a time, the lights went up and the result was announced. The patients had seen "Love" and "The Fish and the Devil," and this was the effect it had on them: Miss Gallagher's blonde blood pressure had gone from 120 to 128, registering most in the kissing scenes. Miss O'Day's had gone from 80 to 122, and she is a brunette! Prof. Marston explained that Miss O'Day's reaction had been most intense during the moment when Gilbert and Greta Garbo had gone into a huddle, with kisses. But, he said, she had been lowest in response when Gilbert was just making eyes at Miss Garbo. The kisses, he declared, had done the business, as they had done for Miss Gallagher.

"SO FAR," he announced to the breathless congregation of newspaper men, "blondes are less responsive to the tests." And a sigh, as if from the spirit of Anita Loos, swept whisperingly through the auditorium.

Next came Beryl Halley, a golden blonde, and Peggy Udell, as marked a brunette. They rather had it on their predecessors, as the motion picture men immediately crowded down in front to take close-ups as well as long shots. When Miss Halley learned that her sleeve was too tight for the blood pressure apparatus she quite easily ripped it from wrist to shoulder for the doctor's convenience. And it was an awfully pretty new black velvet sleeve, too. But what did she care, in the interests of science?

Just as the others had gone through the test, so did Miss Halley and Miss Udell. Before the picture Miss Halley was normal at 110. But she went to 128 when John Gilbert on the screen said to

Queerness Quite The Usual Thing

THIS seems to be the age of unexpectedness in the uses of material and metals and color. We use cretonnes for beach coats, we transform kitchens with color, we serve soup in glass plates, we take the unpretentious pewter and make it lustrous and sophisticated.

So why should we be surprised to find a full breakfast or tea set in a composition resembling celluloid? Bandalasta the material is called and it is shown in one set carried out in mottled red, on a bare black table. Everything that you need is there plus the element of novelty.

If it interests you to use the bizarre or extremely modern tableware, you would probably enjoy a breakfast set quite in contrast to the one just described. Its material is cream white glazed pottery—which is not so unusual. It is in its contours that the uniqueness is found. The shape is in built-up planes, suggesting some of the so-called "skyscraper" furniture that has been recently designed. In the cups this effect could only be suggested in the handles, but in the coffee pot, sugar bowl and pitcher it is developed to a striking degree, giving almost an architectural impression.

While there is nothing novel about the Pink Canton ware, the rendering of this charming Chinese pattern into pink has made a new thing of it. For those who have a more sophisticated taste than is satisfied by the present designs, this new phase of an old china is very pleasing. The shapes are good and the plates nice and flat, while the big round chop platter is distinctly smart. The ware would show to great advantage on a pink or natural linen cloth. And, astonishing to discover, it is remarkably cheap—cups and saucers being less than 75 cents each, as are also the dinner plates.

Greta Garbo: "I'm so much in love with you that the thought of any one coming between us maddens me." Really, it was enough to madden anyone, and Miss Halley is not to be blamed for the rise in pulse.

But Miss Udell beat her. When Gilbert said that and, when, taking Greta in his arms, he cried, "I'm afraid of myself!" her sphygmometer ran way up to 136! She had been as low as 88! It was when Gilbert put his cheek against Greta's that the record went to 136, and it stayed right there from that time on. Really, Miss Udell couldn't do a thing with it after that.

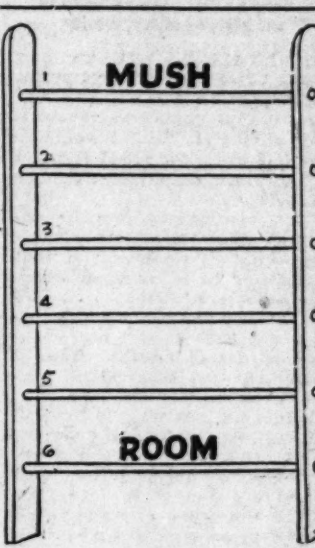

When these tests were ended Dr. Marston had to declare all over again that brunettes were the best reactors. What else could he say?

"SO FAR," he announced to the breathless congregation of newspaper men, "blondes are less responsive to the tests." And a sigh, as if from the spirit of Anita Loos, swept whisperingly through the auditorium.

Next came Beryl Halley, a golden blonde, and Peggy Udell, as marked a brunette. Girls Don't Dress Like Their Mothers

THE day is gone when the young girl wants to look and dress as much as possible like her mother.

The debutante's idea, Paris fashion designers say, is to look as different from her mother as possible. More sophisticated, if she can, and certainly more interesting.

For that reason she wears long skirts for evening when older women prefer the simpler, abbreviated skirt of straight, slenderizing line. The exaggerated long skirt, and the bouffant taffeta dress of period inspiration is nearly always sold to very young clients, according to one Rue de la Paix house which makes a specialty of taffeta frocks.

THE CANARY MURDER CASE

THE STORY THUS FAR
Spotswode had gone out with the "canary" the evening of the murder. When he left, he asked Jessup, on the switchboard, to call a cab. "Then," said Jessup, "we heard Miss Odell scream. We ran to her door and she called through it that everything was all right." But the next morning she was found strangled. Cleaver, known to be an intimate of the girl, is questioned but provides no alibi. He mentions Dr. Lindquist, who orders Markham out of his house when the latter questions him as to his whereabouts the evening of the murder.

CHAPTER XIX.

VANCE shook his head in a look of discouragement. "Heavily," he said, "you should study the cranial indications of your fellow men more carefully. Did you, by any chance, note the gentleman's wide, irregular forehead, his irregular eyebrows, and pale luminous eyes, and his outstanding ears with their thin upper rims, their pointed tips and split lobes? . . . A clever devil, this Ambrosio! . . . Beware of these pseudo-pyrrhonian faces, Markham; leave their Apollonian Greek suggestiveness to mislead women."

"I wonder what he knows?" grumbled Markham irritably. "Oh, he knows something—rest assured of that! And if only we knew it, too. We'd be considerably further along in the investigation. Furthermore, the information he is hiding is somewhat unpleasantly connected with himself. His euphoria is a bit shaken. He frightfully overdid the grand manner; his valetudinary fulmination was the true expression of his feeling toward us."

"Yes," agreed Markham. "That question about last night acted like a petard. What prompted you to suggest my asking it?"

"A number of things—his gratuitous and obviously mendacious statement that he had just read of the murder; his wholly sincere homily on the sacredness of professional confidences; the cautious and Pecksniffian confession of his fatherly regard for the girl; his elaborate struggle to remember when he had last seen her—this particularly. I think, make me suspicious; and then, the psychopathic indicants of his physiognomy."

"Well," admitted Markham. "The question had its effect. . . . I feel that I shall see this fashionable M. D. again."

"You will," iterated Vance. "We took him unawares. But when he has had time to ponder the matter and concoct an appeal to tale, he'll become downright glib. . . . Anyhow, the evening is over, and you can meditate on buttercups till the morrow."

But the evening was not quite over as far as the Odell case was concerned. We had been back in the lounge-room of the club but a short time when a man walked by the corner in which we sat, and bowed with formal courtesy to Markham. Markham, to our surprise, rose and greeted him, at the same time indicating a chair. "There's something further I wanted to ask you, Mr. Spotswode," he said. "If you can spare a moment."

At the mention of the name I regarded the man closely, for, I confess, I was not a little curious about the anonymous escort who had taken the girl to the dance and the theater the night before. Spotswode was a typical New England aristocrat, inflexible, slow in his movements, reserved, and quietly but modestly dressed. His hair and mustache were slightly gray—which, no doubt, enhanced the pinkness of his complexion. He was just under six feet tall, and well proportioned, but a trifle angular.

Markham introduced him to Vance and me, and briefly explained that we were working with him on the case, and that he had thought it best to tell us fully into his confidence. Spotswode gave him a dubious look, but immediately bowed his acceptance of the decision.

"I'm in your hands, Mr. Markham," he replied, in a well-bred but somewhat high-pitched voice, "and I concur, of course, with whatever you think advisable." He turned to Vance with an apologetic smile. "I'm in a rather unpleasant position, and naturally feel a little sensitive about it."

"I'm something of an antimoralist," Vance pleasantly informed him. "At any rate, I'm not a moralist; so my attitude in the matter is quite academic."

Spotswode laughed softly. "I wish my family held a similar point of view; but I'm afraid they would not be so tolerant of my foibles."

"It's only fair to tell you, Mr. Spotswode," interposed Markham, "that there is a bare possibility I may have to call you as a witness."

The man looked up quickly, his face clouding over, but he made no comment. "The fact is," continued Markham, "we are about to make an arrest, and your testimony may be needed to establish the time of Miss Odell's return to her apartment, and also to substantiate the fact that there was presumably someone in her rooms after you had left. Her screams and calls for help, which you heard, may prove vital evidence in obtaining a conviction."

Spotswode seemed rather apologetic at the thought of his relations with the girl becoming public, and for several minutes he sat with averted eyes.

"I see your point," he acknowledged at length. "But it would be a terrible thing for me if the fact of my delinquencies became known."

"That contingency may be entirely avoided," Markham encouraged him. "I promise you that you will not be called upon unless it is absolutely necessary. . . . And now, what I especially wanted to ask you is this: do you happen to know a Dr. Lindquist, who, I understand, was Miss Odell's personal physician?"

Spotswode was frankly puzzled. "I never heard the name," he answered. "In fact, Miss Odell never mentioned any doctor to me."

"And did you ever hear her mention the name of Skeel . . . or refer to anyone as Tony?"

"Never." His answer was emphatic. Markham lapsed into a disappointed silence. Spotswode, too, was silent; he sat as if in a reverie. "You know, Mr. Markham," he said, after several minutes, "I ought to be ashamed to admit it, but the truth is I care a good deal for the girl. I supposed you'd kept her apartment intact. . . . He hesitated, and a look almost of appeal came into his eyes. "I'd like to see it again if I could."

Markham regarded him sympathetically, but finally shook his head. "It wouldn't do. You'd be sure to be recognized by the operator—or there might be a reporter about—and then I'd be unable to keep you out of the case."

The man appeared disappointed, but did not protest; and for several minutes no one spoke. Then Vance raised himself slightly in his chair.

"I say, Mr. Spotswode, do you happen to remember anything unusual occurring last night during the half-hour you remained with Miss Odell after the theater?"

"Casual?" The man's manner was eloquent of his astonishment. "To the contrary. We chatted a while, and then, as she seemed tired, I said good night and came away, making a hunchy appointment with her for today."

"And yet, it now seems fairly certain that some other man was hiding in the apartment when you were there."

"There's little doubt on that point," agreed Spotswode, with the suggestion of a shudder. "And her screams would seem to indicate that he came forth from a hiding a few minutes after I went."

"And you had no suspicion of the fact when you heard her call for help?"

"I did at first—naturally. But when she assured me that nothing was the matter and told me to go home, I attributed her screams to a nightmare."

"I knew she had been tired, and I had left her in the wicker chair near the door, from where her screams seemed to come; so I naturally concluded she had dozed off and called out in her sleep. . . . If only I hadn't taken so much for granted!"

"It's a harrowing situation," Vance was silent for a while; then he asked: "Did you, by any chance, notice the door of the living-room closed? Was it open or closed?"

Spotswode frowned, as if attemping to visualize the picture; but the result was a failure. "I suppose it was closed. I probably would have noticed it if it had been open."

"Then you couldn't say if the key was in the lock or not?"

"Good Lord, no! I don't even know if it ever had a key."

The case was discussed for another half hour; then Spotswode excused himself and left us.

"Funny thing," murmured Markham, "how a man of his upbringing is so much attracted by the empty-headed, butterfly type."

TARIFF STIRS NEW DEBATE AT HAVANA CONFERENCE

Argentine Delegate Insists on Reduction of U. S. Scale for Free International Commerce.

HUGHES CALLS LEVY SOVEREIGN RIGHT

Pan-American Flying Treaty Draft Amended to Meet Several Nations' Objections.

By the Associated Press.
HAVANA, Feb. 7.—The American tariff brought the United States and Argentina once again sharply up against each other yesterday in a closed subcommittee meeting called to draft a preamble to the Pan-American Union convention.

Charles E. Hughes, chairman of the American delegation, is understood to have declared it would be utterly impossible to include in this document any direct reference to the advisability of reducing tariff barriers into international commerce and to make the attainment of this reduction one of the main objects of the Pan-American Union as had been insisted upon by Ambassador Hon. orio Pueyrredon of Argentina.

Dr. Pueyrredon was reported to have maintained his previous position that Pan-Americanism should not be based on abstractions, and that, if it were to fulfill its purpose, it would have to take up positive problems facing the development of the American peoples.

Chief among these concrete problems to be solved, Dr. Pueyrredon maintained, is the tendency to establish barriers to trade between sister-American countries.

Pueyrredon's Attitude.
In a previous meeting of the committee of Pan-American Union affairs, Dr. Pueyrredon had moved that in the preamble of the new convention which is to establish firmly the basis of the institution in Washington, direct reference be made to this question with the accompanying obligation of the Union to study means to reduce or to abolish completely trade barriers.

It is understood Hughes yesterday reminded Dr. Pueyrredon of the latter's stand on Saturday in favor of the absolute sovereignty of nations and declared that the right of assessing tariffs and taxes was the very fundamental precept of sovereignty.
